

LOUIS GLASS JURY STANDS CONVICTION, 8; ACQUITTAL, 4

YOUNG WIFE DESERTS HER AGED HUSBAND FOR GAYER COMPANY

Says She Feels Ashamed of Him Because He "Looks All Worn Out," So She Falls in Love With Motorman.

Over sixty-one years old, gray-haired and stoop-shouldered by age, John A. Spore, a former storekeeper of East Oakland, told the jury this morning that Judge W. E. Wells, sitting in department one of the local Superior Court, of the young girl he had married and how she leaves him in preference to younger and gayer company.

He told how his wife, Mrs. Spore, who now resides at 1616 Fifth avenue with their three children, goes out at night after night with R. J. Thomas, a motorman on the Oakland Traction Company's lines, and how she takes in theater, banquets and cafes until as late as 4 o'clock in the morning.

At present the Spores are not living together. Spore says his wife refuses to have anything to do with him. She is said to have told him that should Thomas find him in the house his temper may get the better of him and he may be hurt.

Spore says he was forty-seven when he was married in Kansas, his former home, and his wife was then a girl of sixteen and of a very poor family.

Three months after he had met her he said her mother was packing up to return to Chicago. Rather than leave the girl alone, Spore said they were poor people and he felt sorry for her, he married her after a brief acquaintance of the three months.

PREFERS OTHER MEN.

"Two days after my wedding I realized I would never be happy with that woman. She preferred other men to me. Back in Kansas she went with younger folks than myself and was always running off to some country dance and leaving me alone," said Spore in telling his story to the court.

"I tried to do the best I could. I never was a complaining man and when my wife went with other men I felt bad, but I was helpless to restrain her of her desires."

"After the children were born it was just the same. She came and went with others. I used to ask her why she did it and she would answer, 'John, if you would only look like other men, dress up and be tidy and young looking, why, I would be glad to go with you. As it is, you look like an old, worn-out man and I really feel ashamed of you.'"

"This used to hurt me, but I took it all. I was driven near to madness many times. I used to get sick and fret over it. When our thirteen-year-old boy was drowned in Kansas I wished it were I instead. I never can live with her."

OUT AT NIGHT.

"When we came to California and I ran a little store in East Oakland she still complained. She went for a while with a newspaper man of San Francisco and now with this motorman, who buys her clothing and supports her. She was out with him thirty-three nights out of thirty-six."

THE SOLID FOUR

THESE ARE THE FOUR SUPERVISORS WHO HAVE ENTERED INTO A COMPACT TO FIGHT ANY PROCEEDINGS BROUGHT TO OUST THEM FROM OFFICE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—3 p. m.—Reports from the Fairmont hotel are that the jury at this hour is engaged in a very vigorous discussion of the evidence. The main point of dispute, it is understood, is whether any of the officials of the Pacific States Telephone Company other than Glass or any of the higher officials of the parent corporation, the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, displaced Glass in ordering the drawing by Auditor Zimmer of the checks on which the alleged bribe moneys was secured.

A report which it is of course impossible to authenticate, has it that four of the twelve jurors are standing out for acquittal and that the leader of the other eight is Foreman Fonda.

So energetic is the discussion going on in the jury suite that the voices of the discontents are heard in the hallways outside.

Judge Lawlor has just informed the Associated Press that he will remain in waiting at the Family Club until 3:30 or 4 o'clock and that he will visit the court room between 4 and 5 whether the jury has anything to report at that time or not.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—The Glass jury came into court at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and after a delay of fifteen minutes, occasioned by the absence of the clerk and the stenographer, the jury was called and Clerk Welch inquired:

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have not," answered Foreman Fonda.

"The sheriff has informed me," said Judge Lawlor, "that you desire further information. What is it?"

"Your honor," replied Fonda, "we want a little information and to expedite the matter I have made a list. I would respectfully ask that the information desired be read deliberately, so that we shall not have to come back here again."

"Read your list," said Judge Lawlor.

"We desire to hear read," the foreman answered, "the testimony of Homer S. King, the—"

"Do you mean the entire testimony?" queried Judge Lawlor, a shade of surprise in his voice.

Want Much Testimony Read

"Yes, your honor; and the entire testimony of Frederick W. Eaton, Henry T. Scott, E. V. Pillsbury and A. J. Steiss. I have also a request for the reading of the court's charge exclusive of the instructions suggested by the attorneys—your own personal part of the charge, I mean."

"The reporter will read the testimony and instructions asked for," said Judge Lawlor.

"And here," resumed Foreman Fonda, rising again and holding out at arm's length between thumb and finger a tattered scrap of yellow paper, "is a matter handed to me after we left the hotel. I don't know whether it was proper or not for me to accept it under that circumstance."

Judge Lawlor said: "Read it, Mr. Foreman. Any matter which the jury desires light upon is proper to bring before the court."

"One of the jurors," replied the foreman, "wants to know when Mr. Zimmer was elected vice-president of the telephone company."

"That will be held in abeyance for the time being," said the court.

The reading of the many files of testimony asked for was then begun by the stenographer.

Jury Retires for Deliberation

The reading of the testimony was completed shortly after noon and Foreman Fonda then announced to the court that the jurors who had desired to hear the charge of the judge was satisfied, and that the reading could be dispensed with.

He requested, however, that the indictment found by the grand jury charging Mr. Glass with bribery be read, and this was accordingly done.

The jury was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and they went to lunch at the Fairmont hotel. They will immediately after lunch deliberate in their own apartments at the hotel and report to the judge when they are ready to come into court.

It is thought from the fact that one juror only desired to read the court's charge that an agreement would be reached at an early hour.

Judge Wishes to Leave City

The reading of the testimony of King, Eaton, Scott, Pillsbury and Steiss consumed three and one half hours, and was concluded at 1:20 p. m. Then Foreman Fonda said:

"We are agreed that the hearing again of the testimony has obviated the question as to when Mr. Zimmer was made vice-president and word comes to me from the juror who asked for the rereading of your honor's charge that the purpose will be served if you will merely read the pith of the indictment—that will be sufficient."

Judge Lawlor read accordingly and the foreman and jurors Schuessel (who had asked for the charge) said that no further information was required. At 1:30 the jury and the two deputy sheriffs climbed into their tallyhoes and were driven back to the Fairmont for luncheon and to pursue the task of reaching a verdict.

Judge Lawlor said that he would wait at his club until 3 o'clock and if no conclusion had been reached then, he would go for a long walk, returning at 5:30. The judge wanted if possible to get away today to Bohemia Grove on the Russian river, where the annual "high jinks" of the Bohemian Club is to be held tonight. This will be his first absence from that famed event and he is cheerfully regretful over the deprivation.

NINE ARE DROWNED; FIFTY ARE INJURED

AUBURN, N. Y., July 27.—The steamship Frontenac was burned on Cayuga Lake, opposite Farley's Point, this afternoon. Nine passengers were drowned and fifty injured. The boat carries a crew of twelve and had about 75 passengers aboard.

CHARGES ARE DENIED BY THIRD OFFICER HAWSE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Third Officer Hawse of the wrecked steamer Columbia has made a statement in which he denies the charges made against him. Referring to Captain Hansen, he says:

"I never did criticize his conduct, but

ALAMEDA BOY HAS CLOSE ESCAPE FROM DEATH

ALAMEDA, July 27.—Harry Cooper, 14 years of age, today at noon attempted to jam a bullet too large for his rifle, into the gun. It exploded, plowed through his right hand and lodged in the scalp just above his right temple.

The boy's escape from death was a narrow one. Had the bullet struck his head half an inch lower, he would have been killed. The accident occurred at the corner of Webster street and Lincoln avenue, while the boy was on his way to hunt in West Alameda.

MRS. O. C. KIRK IS CALLED

A large number of the older citizens of Oakland, particularly those resident in the Seventh ward, will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. O. C. Kirk, widow of the late O. C. Kirk who for several terms represented the Seventh ward acceptably in the city council, and died about six years ago.

Mrs. Kirk had been in poor health for a long time past. She finally went to the springs in Lake county, hoping to obtain relief. The change of climate and treatment were, however, of no avail, and death finally overtook her at an early hour this morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. O'Brien at Kelseyville.

Mrs. Kirk was a resident of 973 Fifth avenue, a native of Ireland and about 55 years old. She leaves six children, namely: Henry C. Kirk, who is well known as a dramatist; Clement, Edward, Loretta, Catherine and Mary. She was one of the most generous and well-beloved of women.

FOUR SUPERVISORS REFUSE TO RESIGN Say Immunity Contract Allows Them to Serve Term

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Disclosures which show the immunity scheme of the graft prosecution are made public through a letter written to the supervisors by their attorney, Hugh M. Owens.

According to the letter, verbal contracts of immunity were entered into between Heney, Langdon and Spreckels, and the various supervisors provided that the confessed bribe takers on the board of supervisors were to be allowed to serve out their terms in office.

Now that Mayor Taylor has appointed a new board, the supervisors dismissed by the big stick are squealing with anger. They claim that they should be allowed under the immunity contract to serve out their terms of office.

Supervisors Nicholas, Davis, McCushion and Coleman defy the big stick. They threaten to complex the municipal situation by refusing to resign from the board to make room for Taylor's appointees.

COLUMBIA'S OFFICER GOT MORPHINE; ASKED FOR MORE

U. S. Marine Hospital Surgeon Declares
Hawse Made Three Demands on Him for Drug.

EUREKA, July 27.—"I gave an injection of morphine to Third Officer Hawse of the Columbia and was solicited for more by him twice afterward, but I refused."

This statement was made by Dr. S. B. Foster, the United States marine hospital surgeon in answer to inquiries relative to stories circulated about Hawse by passengers on the Elder, who said that the man was a morphine fiend.

"I don't know that the officer was intoxicated when he came to me for morphine," said Foster, "in fact, I don't think he was, but I thought it a little queer that an officer of a steamship would want the drug. He told me that he was not injured but was only nervous and unable to sleep. But he said he had taken the drug before, and that it had always a comforting effect."

Hawse is the man who made charges against Captain Hansen, which would make it appear that the master of the San Pedro is responsible for a greater loss of life otherwise than would have taken place.

MORPHINE FOR INJURED.

In narrating the story of Hawse's solicitations for morphine, Foster told of having given an injection of the drug to one of the Columbia's firemen whose arm had been broken and who could get no sleep afterward for pain until the morphine was injected.

"I don't know whether this officer saw

Three Killed; Score Hurt in Train Wreck

BUTLER, Pa., July 27.—Three men were killed and a score injured in a wreck upon the Allegheny and Western road near this city today.

The wreck was caused by a rail breaking beneath the engine on a heavy train of plowmen who were employed on the Butte, Rochester and Pittsburgh road, on their way from Dubois to New Castle. There were 60 or 65 on the train.

Revolution Pops Out In Argentine Province

BRO LANEIRO, July 27.—A revolutionary movement has broken out in one of the Argentine provinces, bordering on Brazil. The Brazilian government has sent troops to the frontier in order to prevent a violation of neutrality.

Retired Admiral Scouts War Talk With Japan

NEW YORK, July 27.—Rear Admiral Francis W. Dickens, U. S. N., retired, who was a passenger on board the steamer Arabic, which came into port today from Liverpool, said that there was little likelihood of trouble with Japan.

The admiral said that the United States had virtually introduced Japan to the society of nations some fifty years ago and ever since then the two nations had been firm friends. He declared that the San Francisco incident was not big enough to cause a war.

United States Senator Edmund Pettus Dying

NEW YORK, July 27.—A telegram from Hot Springs, N. C., received here today, states that United States Senator Edmund W. Pettus, of Alabama, is dying. He became unconscious while at the breakfast table yesterday at Hot Springs, and has since remained unconscious. The physicians pronounce his case hopeless and say the end may come at any time.

ARMY OF TRACKMEN LAY WESTERN PACIFIC RAILS

Train Service on Salt Lake Division Westward Scheduled to Begin Early in September.

"By fall," said a Western Pacific official yesterday, "we will have men laying track from Stockton westward toward Niles and the bay, from Stockton northward along to Sacramento and on to Marysville eastward into the Sierra, from Winnemucca, Nev., westward into the Sierra, and from Shafter, Utah, westward into Nevada; five different big track-laying gangs."

CONSTRUCTION GANGS.
At present we have 7000 men scattered along between here and Salt Lake City working on the road and nearly 5000 on the Feather river and the western slope of the Sierra. The construction of big steel bridges is the thing that holds continuous track-laying back. There are only about fifty men at work so far about the San Francisco terminal, and they are removing old buildings from the site. And there are only eight so far on the proposed pier and ferry slips on this side of the bay. These are men competing the crew operating the pier driver."

TRUCK LAID.
We have the track all laid west from Salt Lake for a distance of 142 miles, a short stretch of two miles of track near the town of Beckwith on the western slope of the Sierra in connection with the B. & N. and Loyola railroads. The track laid in Stockton across the Southern Pacific and street car tracks, and nine miles of track between South Tula and Niles.

"We have all the track-laying done in the city of Stockton, so that the way is open for the main line work on the forty-seven miles run to Sacramento. And soon we shall have a few miles more track laid on the strip stretching from South Tula toward Niles."

OROVILLE-MARYSVILLE SECTION.
Track-laying began Thursday from Marysville toward Oroville. But all the track from Stockton to Sacramento and from Sacramento to Marysville will be laid from Stockton as the main construction camp. From Marysville to Oroville is a stretch of twenty-six miles, and we expect to have that all laid early in September, and from Oroville the work will go on up right along the main pass.

"Some time this fall we shall establish a yard at Winnemucca, Nev., where the Western Pacific diverges to the northwest from the Southern Pacific line."

WHEN TRAIN SERVICE BEGINS.
In September we expect to start our first train service with a line running between Salt Lake and a place now called Shafter, after General Shafter. This town is the crossing-place of our road and the Nevada Northern Railroad, which is running between Salt Lake and the Guggenheim properties at Ely, Nev. Our line to Shafter will be 146 miles long."

CRIMINAL WHO KNIFED CHILDREN RUNS FREE

BERLIN, July 27.—The criminal who yesterday stabbed five little girls upon the streets of Berlin is still at large.

The theory that finds the greatest favor among medical men is that the man is an epileptic who probably has recovered his normal condition and is now without any collection of what he did yesterday—that his attitude toward these dreadful acts is that of a complete stranger.

The newspapers published warnings to parents and almost all sections of the city are patrolled and children are being kept indoors today. Today all police, whether they were on duty last night or not, were ordered out on patrol duty at once. Between 700 and 8000 guardians of the peace are thus doing patrol duty.

Five or six men were arrested during the night, but were released this morning.

WOMAN WHO BETRAYED THIEF ALSO ARRESTED

NEW YORK, July 27.—Laura M. Carter, the woman who betrayed Chester B. Runyan, the paying teller of the Windsor Trust Company, who stole $26,000, to the police, has been indicted for receiving stolen goods. Runyan says he gave her $15,000 of the $26,000 in cash he stole and that she took another $10,000 when he was not looking.

ACCUSE PHYSICIAN OF RECEIVING BRIBES

CHICAGO, July 27.—Dr. Edward Dowdall was arrested last night as the result of some peculiar ideas of medical etiquette which have been guiding him. Dr. Dowdall is accused of obtaining money from medical students and from women who are endeavoring to pass State examinations to obtain certificates as midwives. The money to be used in "fixing" Dr. James M. Egan, secretary of the State Board of Health.

Dr. Dowdall was arrested on complaint of a woman who asserted that he had paid her $100 to secure from Dr. Egan a charitable scrutiny of the answers she made in the State examination by the Board of Health, now in progress here.

NOTED CHARACTER DIES.

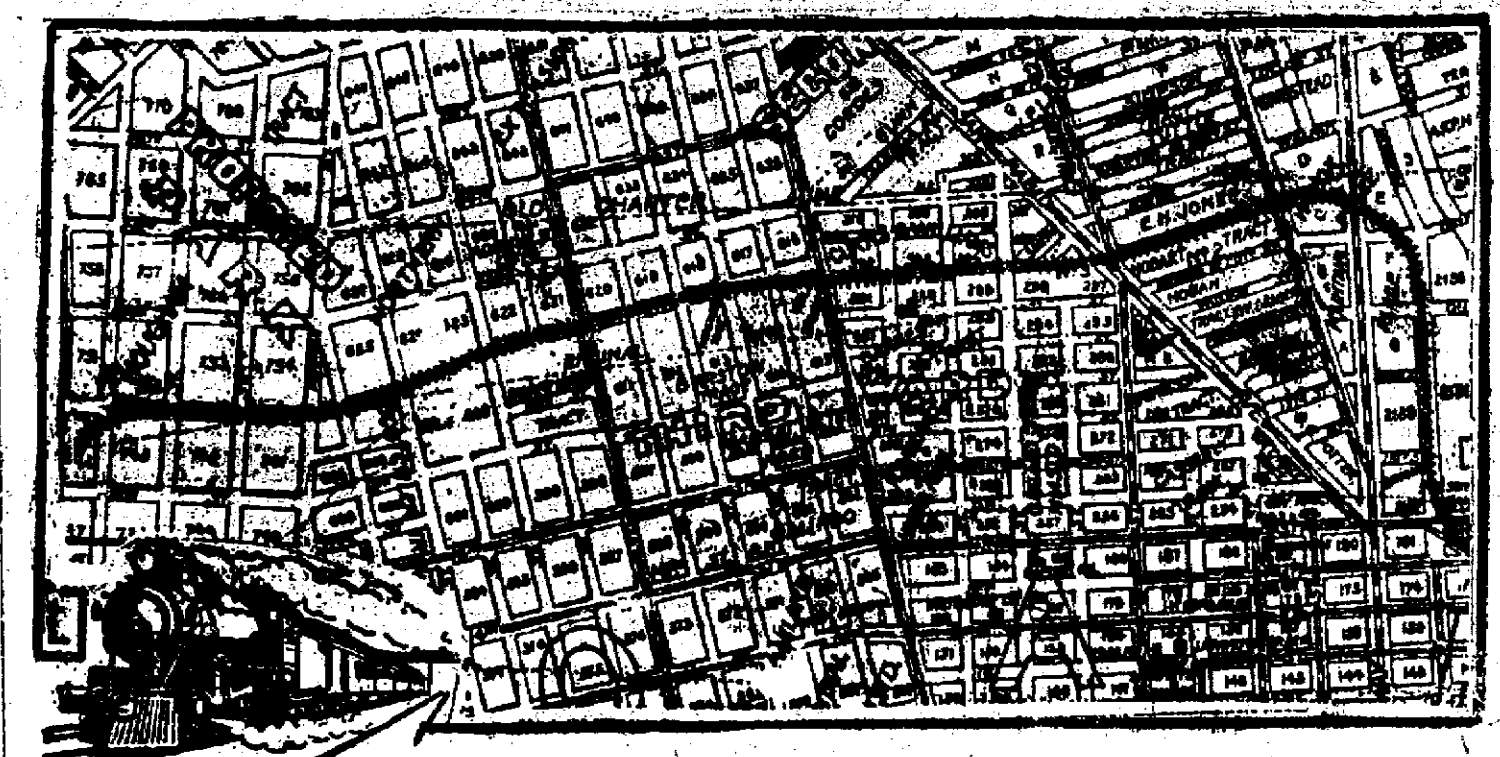

SEATTLE, Wash., July 27.—Dr. Anthony Varile, Parisian inventor, scientist, balloonist and dentist, known from Paris to Dawson City, Y. T., died last night at Providence Hospital after an illness lasting several weeks. Dr. Varile has been practicing dentistry in this city for some years past.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC PERFECTING ITS PLANS FOR LOOP ELECTRIC RAILWAY

HEAVY BLACK LINE SHOWS ROUTE OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXTENSION OF THE WESTERN STREET LINE FROM ALAMEDA PIER ACROSS THE HEART OF OAKLAND FROM ITS PRESENT TERMINUS AT 14TH AND FRANKLIN, NORTH AND WESTWARD TO A CONNECTION WITH THE LOCAL TRACKS OPERATING FROM THE BROAD GAUGE MOLE IN WEST OAKLAND.

More Land Secured for Right of Way for Proposed Extension of the Electricized Webster and Franklin Streets Line.

Additional purchases of private property were made yesterday for the right of way of the proposed extension of the Southern Pacific Company of the Webster and Franklin streets electric railway to Twentieth street and San Pablo avenue and Twenty-first street, where a new depot is to be erected. From that point the line will be carried to the West Oakland pier, thus constituting a loop traversing the heart of the business quarters of Oakland and joining together the two moles of the company.

Right-of-way agents practically concluded negotiations for the transfer of seven lots on the south side of Hobart street, off Telegraph avenue, to the corporation. These transactions give the company title to a private right of way from the junction of Franklin and Twentieth to San Pablo avenue and Twenty-first street.

From San Pablo avenue the company's engineers are preparing plans for a double track along Twenty-first street as far as Wood, where there will be a short cut across private property to Twentieth street, and thence a clear street to the junction with the tracks of the Berkeley local service, a short distance north of the Sixteenth street crossing.

The line will be operated by electricity and it will be operated on a ten-minute ferry service connection for the entire route. Except on the eastern curve, trains may be operated at high speed, and the company plans to be able to make better time to the depot at Fourteenth and Franklin streets in Oakland than the Key Route.

The station to be erected on San Pablo avenue between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets is to be a big structure. The work of converting the first link in the proposed loop, the line running from the Alameda pier to the depot at Fourteenth and Franklin streets in Oakland, into an electric road has been in progress for some time past. The engineers announce that when the work is completed the line will be the most modern electric traction system in the country.

W. P. Smith Confident of Oakland's Future

Mr. W. P. Smith of the well-known real estate firm of Wood, Macdonald & Wood, 4 Telegraph avenue, reports several sales of fine residences and a brisk inquiry both from buyers and renters. Mr. Smith says:

"With the new hotels nearing completion and the many improvements going on in the business and residence section, Oakland is enjoying a phenomenal growth and now ranks with the leading cities of the coast. Our firm predicts a large business for the fall months."

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED BY A TROLLEY CAR

The wrecking of her automobile by a trolley car at Twentieth and Webster street last night came near resulting disastrously to Mrs. Harry P. Gray of 644 Chestnut street, who was thrown out of the machine when it was run down, and she was hurled on to a neighboring lawn, suffering nothing more serious from her experience than a few bruises on the body. The auto was, however, ditched in the gutter, almost a total wreck. The responsibility for the collision apparently rests solely with the collision apparently rests solely with the driver of the machine when it was run down and struck in the rear.

STAATS ZEITUNG MOVES.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Staats Zeitung, New York's great German daily, recently forced to sell its splendid home on Tryon road, facing the city hall, to make room for bridge improvements, has secured a new temporary home, in the old Bonner publishing house, William and Spruce streets, so many years the home of the Ledger.

VALIDITY OF GRAND JURY QUESTIONED BY JUDGE COOK

Allows Defendants to Go to the Supreme Court for Ruling—Involves Legality of Grand Jury Since February.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—In his decision yesterday in an action brought before him by the attorneys for John W. Hayes, Barney Olsen, John Mitten, R. Schmidt, Oscar Peterson, J. C. Kyle and J. M. McDonald, who are indicted in connection with recent street car riots, Superior Judge Cook seriously questions the validity of the grand jury in that it has had official and legal existence since February of this year. The point was raised that the grand jury was an illegal body on the ground that it had continued in service after a new panel had been drawn in the office of the county clerk of the court and placed on file.

Judge Cook in a written decision said the acts of the grand jury were questionable and that he did not feel justified in forcing the defendants to plead to indictments without giving them a chance to take the matter to a higher tribunal for decision. On his advice the case will be taken to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition, thus bringing the matter for an early decision.

ONLY ONE VIEW.

Judge Cook held that the upholding of the validity of the grand jury was the opinion of one judge, and that of the Superior Court, while there was enough of a doubt in the matter to make it proper and just that a higher tribunal should pass upon it.

This is practically the same ground that has been taken from time to time by the defendants in the different graft cases and the successful attack along these lines would mean great deal to many of the now indicted persons and upset all the work of the prosecution.

Judge Cook in handing down his decision of yesterday instructed the defendants to ask the appellate court for a writ of prohibition, but as that writ will not be in session before August 12, the cases will be taken to the Supreme Court direct. The cases against Hayes, Olsen, Mitten, Schmidt, Peterson, Kyle and McDonald will again come up before Judge Cook on August 6.

JUDGE COOK'S DECISION.

In handing down his decision yesterday, Judge Cook said in part:

"The question presented for decision in these cases is whether the indictment is correct, the indictments on which these prosecutions are based would be merely so much blank paper and a conviction would mean nothing, for any judgments of conviction rendered would be reversed."

"The same question has been—as I understand—presented to two other departments of this court, relative to other indictments found and returned by the same Grand Jury. In those departments of the courts the objections to the validity of such Grand Jury were, as I am informed, overruled."

ONE BINDS ALL.

"It is provided by the Constitution of this State (article 8, section 1) that in the county of San Francisco there shall be twelve judges of the Superior Court; any one or more of whom may hold court. There may be as many sessions of said court, at the same time and place, as there are judges thereof; also, that the judgments, orders and proceedings of any session of the Superior Court, held by any one or more of the judges of said court, respectively, shall be equally effective as if all of the judges of said respective courts presided at such session."

"The Code of Civil Procedure (section 87, C. C. C.) contains a provision almost identical in language and of exactly the same import."

"In the case of Brown vs. Campbell (110 Cal. 444), it was held that there was only one Superior Court in the city and county of San Francisco."

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

"This being the constitutional law of the State, as well as the statutory law

RULE BINDING.

"I have always maintained this to be the rule and have repeatedly so held in habeas corpus proceedings, ever before the law is so collected as to make it the statutory law, relative to such cases. (Sec. 1475, Penal Code.)"

QUOTED AUTHORITIES.

"From the language used by the Supreme Court in the case of People vs. Leonard, 108 Cal. 302, and by the District Court of Appeals in the case of People vs. Richardson, 15 Cal. 2d 676, it is very questionable that the opinion of these courts might be in a state of conflict as to the validity of the grand jury, and that the new list of jurors had been selected, certified and filed in the office of the county clerk."

"By the statute of this State, it is required that in January of each year there shall be selected a list of persons to serve as Grand Jurors during the ensuing year, or until a new list shall be provided (Sec. 204 C. C. P.). The persons whose names are so selected shall serve for one year and no other persons are selected (Sec. 204 C. C. P.)."

Judge Cook here quotes a dissenting opinion in the case of People vs. Justice Myrick, who says: "My construction of these provisions is, that the list of jurors to be selected in January of each year, and if a Grand Jury be drawn and impaneled during the year, the list shall be valid and the persons so selected shall serve during the ensuing year. I do not think that the word 'serve' has the significance that they are liable to be drawn during the year and serve afterward, but rather, if they serve at all, it shall be within the year."

RULING IS JUST.

Again Judge Cook says: "If the appellate courts should hold Mr. Justice Myrick's view to be the law, and the converse of what is said in the Leonard and Richardson cases is true, then the list of these indicted persons would be null and void, and the defendants, after conviction, the judgment would be reversed."

"It is fair to prefer, therefore, that the question should be decided in advance of a trial, and consequently I will, following the established rule in this respect, the present grand jury, by the decision of Judge Dunne in the case of People vs. Richardson, and the fact that the indictments, but will set the date for the trial of these indicted persons, and enable counsel to proceed under the procedure had in the case of Bruner vs. Superior Court, 12 Cal. 2d 444, and appeal to the appellate courts for writs of prohibition."

MANY AFFECTED.

Some of those who will be affected by a favorable decision from the Supreme Court are: A. E. Detweiler, J. W. Hall, Louis Glass, Patrick Cadden, William M. Abbott, Theron Wall, Mully, T. L. Ford, G. G. Umbreit, L. Brobeck, Joseph Green, J. C. Deane, J. F. C. Drum and John Martin.

Attorney R. M. Moraga, who represents the defendants, says that Judge Cook's decision of yesterday is a victory for the defendants.

BOILERS BURST AS SHIP SANK

Livermore Refugee From Columbia Gives New Facts Regarding Late Disaster.

LIVERMORE, July 27.—Philip Ashford, one of the survivors of the Columbia disaster, returned here Friday morning, having come down from Eureka Thursday on the steamer City of Tokyo.

The young man will remain here for two or three weeks with friends to recuperate, as he is still very much indisposed as a result of his terrible experiences and the loss of his two girl friends, Misses Margaret McKeany and Albertine Bernal of this place.

After resting Ashford will again start on his journey, this time by rail, to Canyon City, Oregon, to make his home, where his parents are waiting for several months' vacation.

In reply to the questions of friends, Ashford tells of the last time he saw the two girls and of his own narrow escape from death in the sinking vessel. He says he was not awakened at all by the collision, but by the running of people on deck. Going to the door of way into that part of the damaged vessel, he returned to bed, and it was several minutes before he heard a call to "get your life preservers on!"

Without waiting to take his money he rushed to a life preserver, and then hurried to the berths of the girls, but found both had already gone to sleep. He then went to the water, the vessel sank beneath him, leaving him floating with his head above water. One of the Columbia had sunk from sight, he says, the boilers exploded, luckily without the suction of water which would otherwise have carried many to death.

PICKED UP.

Ashford floated for an hour before being picked up. The sea was not dense and some stars could be seen in the sky, he declares. He was taken on board the steamer City of Tokyo, which was on duty on, and while he was trying to warm up in a blanket in the cabin water made its way into that part of the damaged vessel. It was feared it would capsize, until a sudden swell broke them making it off the deck. Ashford, who was then on deck, narrowly missed being struck by the falling mast, a spar by his side having been cut by it.

Ashford says the last he saw of Misses Bernal and McKeany was at 10 o'clock Saturday night, when they were sitting on deck chatting with them, he left to rest.

PREMONITION OF DEATH.

Miss McKeany, Ashford states, had remarked to him not once but several times just before they embarked on the vessel. "Something tells me I ought not to take this trip." Her farewell to her relatives in Oakland followed the same foreboding of danger. On the eve of the disaster she said to her friend Ashford that she "felt as if something was going to happen."

LITTLE CHANGE OF A VERDICT

Prosecution Does Not Now Expect to Secure a Conviction.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Popular fancy has it that the failure thus far of the jury to arrive at a verdict in the Glass case means that the eventual result will be a disagreement. Though members of the prosecution will not be quoted, some of them incline to this belief. Assistant District Attorney Henry Henshaw says that if the jury disagrees the prosecution will proceed to a retrial of Glass with the least possible delay. Not even the attorneys for the defense entertain any hope of an acquittal.

Horticultural Commission Is Badly Jarred CALLS WHITE FLY CAMPAIGN FAILURE

Criticism of the State Men by Woodworth

BERKELEY, July 27.—Professor C. W. Woodworth, expert entomologist at the University of California, has stated the State Horticultural Commission in a bulletin just issued, in which the professor says the commission's campaign against the white fly pest in Marysville has been a failure.

Professor Woodworth returned two days ago with Professor C. C. Clarke from Marysville, where a week was passed in investigating conditions. Woodworth said that the commission's representatives sent broadcast the news that the campaign was ended and was successful, and the pest wiped out. This announcement, however, was a complete failure. The university's entomological experts had sought to intrude upon the white fly campaign and to take credit for the work when the commission was doing it. Peace then charged Professor Woodworth with plagiarism. Woodworth said that he had sought to intrude upon the white fly campaign and to take credit for the work when the commission was doing it.

"FUNDAMENTALLY BAD." Woodworth replies by saying the work of the commission has been "fundamentally bad" and its history "fundamentally bad." He says that the management of the past campaign has been fundamentally bad and its history "fundamentally bad." He says that the management of the past campaign has been fundamentally bad and its history "fundamentally bad."

"MORE COMING." "Moreover, for the remainder of the summer winged individuals will be continually coming forth, making the chances of their being exterminated very small. We are now, therefore, confronted with a new set of conditions and should take a new view of the problem and prepare to meet the new conditions wisely, avoiding the mistakes of the past."

"The original order of the State Horticultural Commission did not include all the work that has been done. It was a mistake to think that the commission was doing all the work. It was a mistake to think that the commission was doing all the work. It was a mistake to think that the commission was doing all the work."

HAS NEW WAY TO SWINDLE

Schemer Gets Another to Cash
Bogus Check, Then Borrows
Money From Him.

The friends of C. T. Hall of 220 Telegraph avenue, would do well to refrain from asking him to accommodate them by cashing any checks in the near future. Also any reference to his business relations with James Bowie is apt to call forth an outburst which will make the questioner quite uncomfortable. On Tuesday morning Hall received a check for $85.00 from one James Bowie. Accompanying the check was a note requesting Hall to pay a $150.00 insurance premium to A. J. Snyder and to keep the $25 balance as a loan. Although Hall had not asked Bowie for a loan, he did not seem to think that this magnanimous offer was at all peculiar. He cashed the check and shortly afterward met Bowie on the street. Bowie asked him if he had paid Snyder, and he replied in the negative. Bowie asked him to let him have $25.00. Hall complied with the request, and Bowie then departed. The next day Hall was notified that the check was bogus. He has enlisted the aid of the police in his search for Bowie.

MAKES DIRT THREATS AND ASKS $1,000,000

CHICAGO, July 27.—A demand for $1,000,000 from a State street merchant under dire threats, was the climax of the eccentricities of Edmund E. Moras, a Chicago physician and the author of several medical works.

The demand was made on Leon Mandel on Monday in a sixty word teletype message signed by Moras. The police have been working for several days on the case and finally decided that Moras was harmless, but needed watching. The matter was kept secret until yesterday in consequence of the efforts of friends of Dr. Moras to get the physician out of town for a much needed rest.

Dr. Moras admitted last night that he had sent the message but he said he regretted it. The only thing that he could bring up against the firm was that it had once sued him for a small account, but over $100, and that his neighbors were pointing scornful fingers at him.

The members of Fire Company No. 1 at Engine 14, Hutchinson who was severely injured on Wednesday morning by being thrown from a buggy on his way home from the engine house. But for the timely aid of Acting Assistant Chief Mulligan, who was passing when the accident occurred, it is very probable that Hutchinson's injuries would have been fatal. The horse which the engine was driving became unmanageable at the corner of Fourteenth and Brush streets and threw him out between the wheels. He clung to the reins and was dragged for some distance by the frightened animal. Mulligan ran out, seized the bridle and brought the horse to a stop in time to save Hutchinson from being crushed under the wheels. Hutchinson was badly scared and bruised about the face and head. He is under the care of a physician and will probably be several weeks before he is able to resume his duties at the engine house.

She could give no reason for his act.

TALK VALUES
AT MARTINEZ

Corporations Are Still Being Investigated by the Board of Supervisors.

MARTINEZ, July 27.—The companies and individuals who were before the Board of Equalization were the Peyton Chemical company, Pacific Stone company, Bank of Martinez, Mountain Copper company, E. S. Humphreys of the Oakwood Stock farm, near Danville, R. N. Burgess, J. J. McNamara, Mrs. G. P. Milnes, M. Bergamini and Leo. Torrey, representing the Patrick Torrey estate.

No very startling developments marked the day's investigations. The most noteworthy case was that of the Pacific Stone company at Black Diamond, the assessable value of whose property Assessor Jones had placed at $5000, but which a representative of the concern stated under oath was not worth more than $2000.

Assessor Jones was called upon to explain and for a time the official was positive a sworn statement had been delivered to him, but on closer investigation it turned out that the assessor had copied from his books of a year previous and in the meantime a large amount of material had been disposed of.

In the matter of the Mountain Copper company, which was represented by W. F. Gett, $25,000 worth more of material was discovered than Assessor Jones reported, his figures being $5000.

The R. N. Burgess ranch near Concord made prominent by having been urged as the correct spot for a state farm and which the owner wanted $200 per acre, besides $100,000 for a water right, was found to be valued at $50 per acre. This was satisfactory to the board, but Mr. Burgess was finally induced to place a value of $100 on his water right.

The board adjourned at 1:30 and drove out in a body to look over the Peyton Chemical works and the Mountain Copper company plant.

WOMAN'S SKULL CRUSHED
UNDER OVERTURNED AUTO
Driver Tries to Back Machine Down Grade and It Drops Off Twenty-Foot Embankment.

PACIFIC GROVE, July 27.—A pleasure party consisting of Mrs. Shaw, the wife of a Monterey attorney, and her baby, C. A. Zimmerman, and child of Santa Cruz, Mrs. Deamer, Helen Gury, Edith Dempsey and James A. Playter, went yesterday for a spin around the seventeen-mile drive in an automobile. About nine miles from this place a rocky point, covered in part with earth, jutted out into the Pacific ocean, and a loop road a steep narrow grade permits a view of the neighboring coast line.

Ahead of the automobile was a large trolley with twenty-one passengers. This stopped at the highest point in the loop, and the driver, who was a man named Zimmerman, who was the driver, tried to start his machine. It refused to respond, and then, fearing he could not make the sharp turn at the head of the loop, he tried to back.

The soil was loose and the wheels slipped, hurling the machine over the edge of a twenty-foot bank onto the rocky highway.

Playter, seeing the danger, opened the door and got out just in time to catch Mrs. Shaw's baby, which she threw to him. Helen Gury seized the Zimmerman baby and half a minute later the back of her skull being horribly crushed. Mrs. Shaw was also terribly lacerated about the head and is so severely contused that her life is despaired of, while Miss Dempsey escaped with a broken jaw and comparatively slight bruises.

Zimmerman was practically unhurt, though when thrown out the machine came within a few inches of crushing him. The wounded women were hurried to town in the trolley, the machine lying a wreck on the rocks at the loop.

Notwithstanding the fact that he was literally sawed to bits, his body was recovered for an hour and a half after the accident. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania.

TO ERECT MAIL BOX POSTS.
At the meeting of the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon, a resolution was adopted granting permission to the postoffice authorities to erect short, ornamental iron posts on the sidewalks of the principal business streets, where all telegraph and telephone poles have been ordered down. The mail boxes formerly attached to telegraph poles and lamp posts. The work is to be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the board of works. The postal department will submit plans and specifications of the letter box posts.

ALL WELCOME.
The society welcomes to its ranks all who are interested in its charitable work. There is no society called upon to do more, and this with its motto, "We are all in it together," is a society that realizes the need of human endeavor to correct the abuse of animals, which is all too frequent in our midst. It is sought, that the aims and objects of the society be the more speedily attained, much to the relief of our dumb friends and to the credit of Oakland.

SOCIETY TO PROTECT ANIMALS ALWAYS BUSY
EDITOR TRIBUNE.—Replying to letter from "Newcomer," published in last evening's TRIBUNE, I am glad to state that there is in this city a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, ready at all times to receive complaints and to investigate them as early as possible. Telephones are maintained at the office of the society and at the residence of the humane officer and the secretary of the organization, thus insuring a response to calls. The society has urged that the citizens report to it all cases of cruelty to animals met with, thus materially aiding in the work of protecting the dumb creatures from neglect and abuse.

PRESENT DIAMOND TO RETIRING PRESIDENT

Garrison, who spoke in glowing terms of the good work accomplished by the recipient of the token, while he presided as the superior officer.

DESERT TRAIN
SET ON FIRE
Tank Car of Gasoline Is Ignited Which Gives Strenuous Work to Faithful Crew.

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—With a burning tank car of gasoline, the flames shooting high in the air, the crew of a fast Lake freight train that was speeding across the desert, about 30 miles west of Las Vegas had a fierce battle with fire yesterday. Spontaneous combustion, caused by the intense heat of the desert, is supposed to have caused the blaze.

Quickly as possible the cars in the rear of the burning train were cut off and the forward part of the train was pulled up half a mile, where the fire chariot was released, while the engine and remaining cars were pulled out of reach of the flames. Hardly a half hour had elapsed when the big steel tank, containing hundreds of gallons, exploded, scattering blazing oil over a wide territory.

The nearest water was at Las Vegas, 30 miles away, and the trainmen could do nothing but wait for the fire to burn out. So intense was the heat from the fire that it ignited the ties and warped the steel rails, trying up traffic for several hours.

When the trainmen had succeeded in cutting out the blazing car adjoining cars, also containing oil, became ignited but were extinguished.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE MADE AGAINST CUBAN
HAVANA, July 27.—Senator Morna Delgado, a prominent liberal who participated in last year's revolt, has written a sensational letter, which is published in La Lucha, in which he charges that Maso Parra, once a Spanish ally, is planning to work up the Cuban people and induce them to vote against the provisional government. Parra, as he is called, Delgado says, is to show to Washington that Cubans wish a speedy end of American occupation and quick withdrawal of their representatives.

Parra denies the conspiracy and says he will conspire only when he is convinced that Cuba has been deceived by Americans.

WOMEN AUTO PARTY MADE TO PAY FOR TEAM'S DEATH
Peculiar Accident to Indian's Mules Result in Arrest of Oaklanders by Lakeport Sheriff.

LAKEPORT, July 27.—Mrs. G. W. Fischer and Miss Louise Mahoney of Oakland and Mrs. Sbarboro and Miss Sartori of San Francisco, all well known society women, together with H. E. Kennedy, their chauffeur, are on their way back to San Francisco by consent of the sheriff of this county. The entire party was placed under arrest and detained by the sheriff until they had made a financial settlement with two Indian women whose team of mules met an untimely death after a chance meeting on the roadway with a motor car which the Fischer party had engaged for the day.

DOUBT EXISTS.
Some doubt exists as to the circumstances which ended in the death of the mules, and in the absence of an inquest the matter may never be cleared. The facts on which all concerned agree are that the mules jumped off the embankment into a creek, where they were drowned, that no one else suffered any injury and that the members of the auto party paid to the Indian women the sum of $125 for the lost animals.

The Indian women say that the motor frightened the mules and caused them to bolt. The occupants of the auto state that the mules were not seriously alarmed until the Indian women began to scream and that they then dashed over the bank.

Mrs. Fischer, Miss Mahoney, Mrs. Sbarboro and Miss Sartori were on their way from Highland Springs, to Lakeport. When near Lakeport they encountered the Indian women with the mules. Kennedy, the chauffeur, held the bridle of the mules and the animals appeared to be willing to let the car pass, when suddenly the Indian women began to scream with alarm, dropped the lines and jumped from the wagon. Then the team hurdled the grade and landed in the creek, never to rise again.

SHERIFF WANTS $250.
The autoists returned to Highland Springs, but had not there long before the sheriff from Lakeport appeared and presented a bill for $250 on behalf of the Indian women. The sheriff incidentally informed the autoists that they were under arrest and any attempt to depart would be made at their peril.

After a time a conference was arranged and an expert appraisement made of the value of the mules before they met the auto. This was placed at $125, the money was paid, and the sheriff allowed the tourists to return to San Francisco.

PISTOLESI IS EXPELLED AND THEN REINSTATED
SAUSALITO, July 27.—The San Francisco Yacht Club has reconsidered its action in expelling Louis C. Pistolesi, and tonight the rolls show that the supervisor is once more a member in good standing in that organization. This is temporary, however. A few days ago the club expelled Pistolesi for having refused to pay the dues upon the members, but upon the club.

The expulsion of Pistolesi caused a big stir in social circles. He has been the champion of poloists on the Sausalito Board of Trustees. The members of the yacht club have been fighting the poloists and their action caused Pistolesi to make statements to which they objected, and which caused them to take action against him.

Pistolesi, after having been served with a notice that his membership had been canceled in the yacht club, brought an action in the superior court, applying for an injunction to stop the club from expelling him.

This injunction case was to have come to trial shortly and the club, in looking over the minutes of its last meeting, discovered that the action taken was not according to law. This caused Pistolesi's reinstatement in order that legal action may be taken against him.

Pistolesi will continue his fight against the club and hopes to be permanently reinstated.

LAUNCH NEW TYPE WARSHIP
Swiftest Cruiser Will Act as Grayhound for the American Navy.

QUINCY, Mass., July 27.—A new type of war vessel, and one that is expected to add greatly to the efficiency of the navy in time of war, will be launched here today from the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company. The vessel is the scout cruiser Salem, whose duty it will be in time of war to look for and report the movements of an enemy.

The Salem is to have a speed of twenty-four knots. This is greater than that of any cruiser in the navy. Several scout cruisers now building for the British navy are to have slightly greater speed, but the American scout is expected to maintain her speed in any sort of weather and will have twice the coal capacity of the British ships, thus giving her a much greater radius of action.

ALWAYS DRY.
No other vessel in the navy has as high a freeboard as the Salem. This insures good seagoing qualities, gives stability and provides a safe and dry vessel under all weather conditions.

The Salem is 423 feet 2 inches long, has a breadth of 46 feet 8 inches and a draught of 13 feet 14 inches. Her displacement, fully loaded, is 4440 tons. Her battery will consist of three 5-inch rapid fire guns and she will have two submerged torpedo tubes.

Propelling power for the new cruiser will be supplied by Curtis marine turbines and there will be twelve water tube boilers.

Quarters for eighteen officers and 114 men will be provided.

MISTAKES MAN FOR DEER.
UKIAH, July 27.—F. Z. Kelsen shot and seriously injured George Ahrens, a short distance from Ukiah Springs. Both men had been stopping at that resort, and Ahrens was out picking ferns on a side hill, while Kelsen was hunting deer. He saw something move in the shrubbery and he let drive. Ahrens will recover, but his arm and side are badly mangled. Both are residents of San Francisco. Ahrens having recently become interested in a wholesale liquor house.

BOSTON PREACHER TO TELL OF CONGO HORROR

The pulpit of the First Baptist Church of this city will be occupied tomorrow by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church of Boston, Mass. The Rev. Johnson is a native of Oregon and has achieved a position in Boston where he preaches to one of the largest congregations in that city. For several months he has been devoting most of his time to the work of the Congo Reform Association, an international organization which is seeking the co-operation of the leading nations in effecting the prohibition of the atrocities in the Congo Free State. He will speak upon the Congo atrocities at the evening service.

NEWS LETTER ON TAYLOR.
The San Francisco News Letter of this week, in its racy editorial comment, shows that the position in regard to the new mayor whom "all men delight to honor" and also his latest scheme to capture the Democratic primaries.

Some interesting side lights on the street car situation are given. Mayor Taylor's position concerning the price fight is defined and commented on. The anti-imperialists are called down in a vigorous manner and the antiquity of socialism is fully proved.

A protest is entered in this week's News Letter against the stupidity of those in command, who go down to the sea in ships on our coast, and the fulfillment of past prophecies concerning the liability of accidents is shown.

The name of the candidate for the place of the child of policy to take Diana's place is given.

There is an article on the harbor of San Francisco, and the immense amount of business that will be brought to this city by the assembling of the Pacific fleet.

The News Letter also tells of the state of anarchy, now existing in the Mission district, and suggests a remedy.

The new carmen are praised for their courtesy, but are rebuked for the trouble the times they have been serving the public.

The new rail stations and the enlargement of the training station at Goat Island are given considerable space.

The Suburban and the Town offer contribute their quota of interesting items that go to make up one of the best issues of this interesting paper.

Society gives a peep into the heart of Mrs. Longworth, who is said to have been somewhat plighted at seeing a letter taken at her word, when she expressed her desire for a glum vacation.

Queer Graft Crusade Developments.

Dr. Taylor, the poet mayor of San Francisco, has announced the names of the gentlemen he intends to appoint Supervisors when the sixteen unindicted boodlers resign from the board. The proposed appointees are all reputable citizens, half of them Democrats and half of them Republicans. But union labor does not appear to be represented, which will doubtless be pleasing to the Citizens' Alliance.

However, the chief point of interest is the indignant refusal of four of the boodling Supervisors to resign. They will probably change their minds, but the ground of their objection to handing in their resignations presents an interesting field for inquiry and study. They charge the graft prosecution with breach of promise. They allege that Messrs. Langdon, Heney and Spreckels pledged them continuance in office as well as immunity from prosecution. They are fortified in this statement by a letter from H. M. Owens, the attorney who represented them in the deal with the District Attorney's office.

The letter of Mr. Owens is an extraordinary contribution to the literature of the graft crusade. It throws a peculiar radiance over the methods and designs of the evangelists who are leading the movement for civic reform and political purity. According to Mr. Owens, the promise of immunity and continuance in office was to include Mayor Schmitz if he would confess and "come through" against the men "higher up." George Duffy, who resigned from the board to become Commissioner of Public Works, was also to be retained in office and relieved of the ordeal of confessing and wearing stripes. Abe Ruef was to be held immune. The refusal of Schmitz to confess himself a thief and a bribe-taker subjected him to relentless prosecution, deposition from office and incarceration in jail, while Ruef has been placed only in nominal confinement.

If Mr. Owens states the truth, the plan of the prosecution was to retain the Schmitz government in power unbroken in any part on the sole condition that obedience would be rendered the District Attorney and evidence supplied to convict the corporation managers who are accused of holding corrupt relations with Ruef and the Supervisors. In this arrangement the alleged wrongs of the French restaurant keepers were not considered apparently, or were to be ignored as mere trifles. If all the boodlers and grafters holding office in San Francisco were to be free from punishment or removal from office, what was the real object of the graft prosecution? Was it a war on corporate capital and against corporation managers or a movement to purge the city of political rottenness and maladministration. And what was the real object of the scheme to get the men "higher up" by this extraordinary deal with confessed criminals and official miscreants?

Was the aim in view political purity or something entirely different and distinct? A little more light turned on would enable the public to judge more clearly and dispassionately the true meaning of the extraordinary policy resorted to by Messrs. Langdon, Heney and Spreckels. The Owens letter certainly raises some disagreeable suggestions.

Joaquin Miller comes back from Oregon disappointed in his aspiration to be Senator. He is disgusted that the Oregonians should prefer a practical politician to a man in whom burns the poetic fire. It is his belief (and the belief of a good many others) that he writes better poetry than Dr. Taylor, and is therefore entitled to higher political honors. But in this prosaic age statesmen (who are live politicians) are preferred to bards in the halls of Congress. So the good gray poet returns from his quest for office "where rolls the Oregon and hears no sound save his dashing" to sit and sing among the Piedmont hills, a wiser but we hope not a sadder man. It is better to be a poet in California, anyhow, than a Senator from Oregon. There is Heney, you know. He might make it a habit to send Oregon Senators to prison, and the runic beard of the sweet singer of Piedmont would make a mournful spectacle behind the bars of a jail.

The Fool Deer Hunter.

Another man has been shot by a hunter who mistook him for a deer. Fortunately the victim was only maimed for life, not killed outright. This last "accident" is the last of a series of distressing tragedies which have occurred since the opening of the deer hunting season. About as many persons as deer have been slain. Three fatalities occurred in as many days. In each case the "accident" was the result of shooting at a rustle in the bushes, without waiting to see what the target really was. This previousness with a gun should be sternly repressed. The person so reckless as to fire at something without knowing what it is should not be allowed to carry a gun, and the theory that only a deer can rustle bushes in the hunting season is the assumption of a fool. As a rule, there are more men than deer in the mountains during the hunting season, nevertheless hunters go on banging at every movement of the brush with a criminal disregard for human life. The excuse that no harm was intended is paltry and idiotic. It does not bring the dead to life nor assuage the grief of the relatives of the slain. Such excesses should not be accepted, for their continued acceptance means the forfeiture of other lives. The man shot near Ukiah yesterday was picking ferns. Better no venison at all than the slaughter of an innocent person for every deer killed. If a few of these accidental killers were sent to prison for manslaughter, there would be a speedy diminution in the number of tragedies in the hunting field.

Uncle Sam and Korea.

Some of our contemporaries are quoting the following clause of the treaty between the United States and Korea, entered into in 1883, as a reason why this country should interfere with Japan's operations in the hermit kingdom:

"If other powers deal unjustly or oppressively with either government, the other will exert its good offices on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable arrangement, thus showing its friendly feelings."

Apparently our contemporaries have forgotten the treaty of Portsmouth negotiated under the auspices of President Roosevelt. That treaty acknowledged the suzerainty of Japan over Korea, and has been accepted by the United States and leading European nations defining and settling the political status of Korea. Besides, the pledge to "exert good offices amicably" in case either signatory to the treaty is dealt with unjustly or oppressively means nothing. It is mere diplomatic glad-handing. Amicably does not mean force, and Korea could do nothing amicably or otherwise to help the United States in case this government became involved with another power.

A pledge such as the Korean treaty contains must be reciprocal to be vital. Meaning nothing so far as Korea is concerned, it means nothing so far as the United States is concerned. Anyway, by accepting the provisions of the treaty of Portsmouth, our government is estopped from interfering in Korean affairs. Moreover, we could not do so, even in the most delicate manner, without bringing on a collision with Japan.

Colonel Watterson's cry of "Back to the Constitution" is generally construed to mean back to the woods. It is not the Constitution but the offices that the Democratic stomach yearns for. And, then, a good many people construe the Constitution differently from Colonel Watterson.

REFUSE TO LET WIFE SEE
BODY OF DEAD HUSBAND

Parents of Alameda Youth Declare That She Failed to Show Him Proper Respect During His Lifetime.

ALAMEDA, July 27.—After a hurried trip from Tuolumne county after learning that her husband, who she had married three years ago when she was then 18 years of age, had died, Mrs. Francis Dalton Bacon was refused permission to see the remains of her husband, when they lay in the bier at the home of his parents, at 1515 Denton street.

Yesterday Mrs. Bacon, a pretty young girl, arrived in this city and went to the home of her dead husband's parents. It was then that they refused to allow her to see his body, claiming she had not shown him proper respect during his lifetime. For years Bacon suffered from rheumatism and was estranged from his wife.

Quite a scene occurred when the parents of the dead man refused permission to his wife to see him. Today, however, when the funeral took place, Mrs. Bacon was allowed to see her husband's body and followed it in a carriage to the grave.

The couple were very young when married and have a child two years of age. The wife of the dead man stated that she had been told by friends of his death, but that his parents gave her no warning that he was near death.

LANDLORD AND TENANTS FIGHT

Owner Pleads Guilty to Battery For Giving "A Fresh Kid a Shove."

The old, old strife between landlord and tenant was again brought into prominence in the Police court this morning when John Roderick Vierra was called to answer a charge of battery preferred by Manuel Fontes. Vierra, who has extensive property holdings in this city, resides at 915 East Fourteenth street. The upper story of his residence is rented by Mrs. Maria Fontes, and Manuel is her sixteen-year-old son.

Last evening Vierra and Manuel engaged in a wordy argument over the leased condition of the upstairs hall, during the course of which the landlord admitted that he gave the boy a slight shove.

Mrs. Fontes then appeared upon the scene and upbraided Vierra in terms which, he alleges, caused him great mental anguish and mortification. Manuel participated in the unpleasantness, as Vierra, by hurling a rock at the child, thereby placing his physical anguish on a par with his mental. And to cap the climax the whole Fontes family journeyed down to Police headquarters and swore out a warrant for Vierra's arrest.

This morning the aggrieved landlord, with many protestations of martyrdom, pleaded guilty to the charge of battery, if, as he expressed it, "it is battery to give a fresh kid a shove." Judgment was suspended in his case.

ANNIE CLAIMS TO BE AN ACTRESS, BUT—

Annie Larsen, who is one of the most notorious characters in the local police court docks, was on the calendar in Police Court No. 1 again this morning. She did not appear.

The bailiff explained her absence by saying that she had not recovered from the effects of a severe attack of the night before to make a trip upstairs.

Annie claims to be an actress, and it is her custom to dress in the style of the city jail, during her numerous sojourns there, by singing to them various ballads of the great heroes. The only charges which are ever entered against her are drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

INCREASE ASSESSMENT.
SAN JOSE, July 27.—The report of County Assessor Spitzer for the present year shows a large increase over the assessment of last year. The real estate in the county aggregates $5,222,470; improvements, $1,800,000; personal property, $5,777,300; total, $12,800,000. The total last year was $10,000,000. The increase in the assessment by the State Board of Equalization, which will bring the figures up to $15,000,000. The acreage in vines is 1730 and the number of fruit trees in the county is 6,277,727.

CAN SLEEP UNDER TREES.
Police Judge Smith this morning dismissed the charge of violating the city law against sleeping under a tree. The defendant, John Smith, was arrested in Lincoln park last night while he was asleep under a tree. Judge Smith held that he was not found in a covered building, he was not found in a covered building, he was not found in a covered building.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.
SAN JOSE, July 27.—The coroner's jury today charged with murder the body of Frank Smith, who died a few days ago from wounds inflicted with a knife. The body was found in a field near the city limits.

MAN ARRESTED
BY A MONKEY

Jocko Chases Tormentor Until Policeman Takes Him to Prison.

PITTSBURGH, July 27.—Jocko, the pet monkey who roared on a coal hoist at the foot of South avenue, Allegheny, made an arrest recently. William Jones is the man who was generally "plucked" and he was ordered to serve ten days in jail as a suspicious character by Magistrate Haden.

According to the testimony, Jones went on the coal hoist and began throwing coal at the monkey. Jocko became so indignant that he wrestled himself loose from the ties that bound him to the hoist and began throwing coal at Jones, and finally attacked him. Jones dodged, he had enough and started up Rebecca street in a hurry. The monkey still pursued him. At this stage a policeman joined in and arrested Jones.

Jones declares he never boarded the hoist to sleep, and that the monkey attacked him.

SEVEN BODIES HAVE BEEN RECOVERED

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 27.—A Post master from Auburn says: Seven bodies have been recovered from the steamer Frontenac, burned this afternoon off Still Cove, Cayuga Lake. The list of identified dead is:

Miss Azelle G. McGarry, Cohoes.

Mrs. Homer Denung, of Ohio, and son Carl.

There are three dead women and a little girl yet unidentified.

Several others are badly injured. Most of the injured are burned and are being cared for at nearby farmhouses.

The accident occurred when the steamer was in the middle of the lake. Fire then broke out on the upper deck. The vessel ran ashore rapidly and was beached in six feet of water.

SAID TO BE SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS

A. Gummerson of 1348 East Sixteenth street, was arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of misdemeanor or embezzlement preferred by W. J. Morrison, who is a member of the Gardner-Mitchell Grocery company.

Gummerson was formerly employed by the grocery company and it is charged that he misappropriated some of the funds entrusted to his care.

A fondness for theater parties and expensive clothing is said to have been the cause of Gummerson's alleged downfall. He is said to be $150 short in his accounts. Police Judge Samuels will hear his case on Monday.

DEATH OF BERTHA WEBBER.
Bertha Webber, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Webber of Nevada City, California, and aged thirty-five years, died this morning in Oakland at the home of friends at 154 Santa Clara avenue.

The remains will be shipped to Nevada City tomorrow for interment.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.
SAN JOSE, July 27.—The coroner's jury today charged with murder the body of Frank Smith, who died a few days ago from wounds inflicted with a knife. The body was found in a field near the city limits.

Pointed Paragraphs

Seneca: There is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers.

If the cranks who threaten Mr. Jerome's life refrain their threats it is believed that the least two eminent alienists—Dr. Wiley and Dr. Evans—will furnish the murderer with expert testimony free of charge.

William Meyers, a Baltimore custom house inspector, was absent on sick leave and offered as sufficient certificate the statement of a Christian Science healer that he was unable to work. His superior officer hesitated to recognize this statement as sufficient, as the law requires a certificate of sickness from a "duly qualified practitioner of medicine." The case has been turned over to Secretary Cortright for adjudication.

A Jewish clergyman in Brooklyn, writing about people who habitually attend services at the synagogue without contributing to its maintenance, calls them "moral parasites," and describes them further as "individuals whose religious life steals its substance from others." He says there are women "parasites" also, and that he has known women "to beat or steal their way through their religious life." In the course of his letter he refers to them as "avaricious," "congregational parasites," etc., and says that "the race should come under the ban of human contempt."

IDORA PARK ACTRESSES
HALTED BY POLICE

Charles R. Tate, a chauffeur, pleaded guilty to violating the speed limit in Police Court No. 2 this morning. Tate was arrested last evening while speeding along Telegraph avenue with four members of the Idora Park chorus in his machine.

When stopped he explained that if the police detained him, the show at Idora could not proceed, as two of the young women in his auto were cast for prominent parts. The policeman accompanied Tate to Idora Park, and then took him to the police station, where he furnished the usual bail. His case went over for sentence until Monday.

PRAYS LEGAL RELIEF FROM DONKEY PLAGUE.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 27.—Farmer A. A. Neely, of Lake township, has an overabundance of circus donkeys, which are an embarrassment and of which he has so far been unable to rid himself. He has appealed to the courts for assistance, and hopes through legal channels to obtain relief and dispose of the animals. He has had them for two years. The donkeys belong to Colonel W. D. Buckhart, a showman. Two years ago Buckhart had hard luck and had to leave the donkeys somewhere until his financial condition was improved. He made an agreement to board the donkeys with Neely for $10 a month in winter and $1 a week in summer.

Recently his financial condition is not causing John D. Buckkeller to worry about his laurels, for Neely has heard nothing from him. In the meantime, the donkeys' board bill increased, they proved of no service to Neely, he had no right to sell them; he did not want to turn them adrift, and so he sought a lawyer and applied to the court for permission to auction them off for their board bill of $124.50.

WAKEFUL NIGHTS AFFLICT DIAMOND BEDECKED WOMEN

While Modest Maids, Who Lack Laces, Gold, Furs and Jewels, Sleep Soundly and Can Say 'Blessed Be Nothing.'

She has a big blonde and her rich broad-shoulders in luxurious carelessness as she gazed the box at the theater and took her seat. As the elegant garment fell from her, there was disclosed a fortune in diamonds and pearls. They gleamed in her ears and in her hair and at her throat and a river of gems fell from her neck almost to her knees. Her fingers were covered with diamonds and other precious stones. In fact she outshone every other woman in the audience or all of them put together for that matter.

From the conversation of two girls who sat in front of me I learned that before she became the wife of the rich man who had bought all these precious stones for her during the past three years, this woman worked in a shop. That's no disgrace, to be sure; I merely mention it because I heard the girls talking to each other about her gown and handsome jewels.

"Oh, if I only had just one of these diamonds," one of these girls said, "how perfectly happy it would make me! Just one of the smallest. she would never miss it, and it would make me happy all the rest of my natural lifetime. I'm just dying for a diamond ring."

"Me, too," answered her companion. "I would be perfectly satisfied if I had just one teeny, weeny diamond in a ring, and here she has bushels of them."

WORRIED BY WEALTH.

After hearing of the troubles and worries that beset the women who own diamonds and real laces and other expensive things, I made up my mind that I was satisfied to have my money come to me every Monday afternoon and to have it all gone by Saturday night, without investing any of it in diamonds.

For I have known many women who have lain awake nights worrying about the safety of their jewels and precious laces and valuable furs, and thank goodness I am not one of these. Can you imagine anything more silly than for a woman to own so much valuable "trunk" that its possession keeps her awake nights? If one is kept awake nights with an ache or a pain, a visit to the doctor soon remedies the matter. But the woman whose diamonds and laces keep her awake nights keeps on accumulating them, constantly adding something more to her load of trouble.

In a neighboring city I heard not long since of the danger into which the ownership of handsome diamonds brought a society woman. She was returning from the grand opera alone in her carriage when, in one of the loneliest and most shaded spots of the avenue, her coachman and footman held her up and at the point of a revolver forced her to strip her jewels from her fingers and neck and hand them over to them. Then they made their escape, leaving her to make her way home with horses and carriage as best she could.

Wonder if she was the "happiest woman in the world," as she sat on the box of her carriage at 1 o'clock in the morning, driving a pair of lively horses through a deserted avenue, after her encounter with the thieves? And yet she had plenty of diamonds and other jewels.

NOTHING MEANS RICHES.

Oh, little girls who think diamonds would make you perfectly happy, think of something else. The woman who owns jewels of them is no happier than when she stood behind the counter and sold lace and embroidery. She looks prettier, perhaps, in her handsome gowns, but every diamond and every handsome gown is bought with a price, and this price is paid in worry and apprehension. I would rather be you, with your cheap little lace and dresses, than the woman who lies awake nights worrying for fear her diamonds will be stolen or her priceless fables and satins be eaten by the moths. The possession of riches does not always bring with it the happiness that one imagines. Learn to say with the philosopher, "Blessed be nothing."

DOINGS In the World of FASHION

String color linens and linens in the creamy biscuit shades are particularly popular this season and more of the smart tailored coats and skirts of linen are turned out in these shades than in any other. White collars and cuffs faced with white French pique and this touch of white does make the coat more becoming and adds to its appearance of coolness.

White linen is, of course, always liked for coat and skirt suits, as are the soft dull blues, and this year the darker tans and browns are considerably in demand, khaki and saddle brown in particular, although the latter will undoubtedly look best on broiling mid-summer days.

The tailored linen coats are fitted or semi-fitted in the back, loose in front and of whatever length is best suited to the wearer, although the preference is for comparatively short coats.

MISS JOSEPHINE WEST, the well known vaudeville actress, whose picture is shown on the upper right, says that since October last she has been the bride of Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, shown below. The prince, who is a nephew of the late Empress Isabelle of Austria, is reported missing and his bride, who lives in a small flat in New York city, is looking for him, believing that there is a conspiracy to keep them apart. The photograph of the upper left is one of Empress Elizabeth of Austria.

THOSE WHOM MAN JOINS ARE APT TO SEPARATE

Every one knows that oil and water will not unite. They may be mixed when shaken up together, but when they become quiescent they separate.

You may bring a man and a woman together, marry them according to law, but as soon as the passing fascination and the excitement of the occasion have passed away, they begin to separate. The minister pronounced them man and wife, but nature did not, consequently they did not become of one bone and one flesh. Those whom God joins together man cannot part asunder without using violence, but those whom man joins are very apt to part of their own accord.

Society and the church demand that this matter be taken up, studied and investigated with great care by teachers and preachers, and talked and written about until the people everywhere are made to see its importance.

Unfit marriages cause more misery, more human failures and more trouble generally than anything else that happens in the social world, and the trouble is usually far reaching.—Erasmus Wilson in Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

HOW PLAIN WOMEN CAN MAKE THEMSELVES ATTRACTIVE TO ALL

By ELIZABETH LEE

Nowadays no woman need be absolutely plain unless she wishes it. Of course to the end of time there will be beautiful women, pretty women, those just passably good looking and the woman who must confess to herself that she is certainly plain, if she believes her mirror.

The plain woman is not confined to any particular class or type. She may be dark, fair or entirely nondescript.

As a rule she will be found to possess one good point, generally alluded to as "her redeeming feature," by her acquaintances, and it is her duty to dress up to it. She should make this point the keynote when planning her toilets, and never lose sight of it, whether the attribute of beauty be good eyes, a clear, transparent skin, an abundance of hair, or a pretty shape, a graceful pose of the head, or a good line of the back. No one is quite so hopeless as to be perfectly devoid of all comeliness.

The first thing of the plain woman must be to give her figure careful attention. A stylish or even well rounded body will, nine times out of ten, carry one through far better than a pretty face.

The individual with a poor figure, who is short waisted, flat chested or lacks bust, may be improved by suitable corseting. Petticoats, too, must fit such a figure perfectly and be trim, rather than fluffy. Shoes and stockings should be of the same order; lisle thread hose and neat Oxford shoes are suggestions. Embroidered hose and fancy footwear should be left to the pretty woman. In fact, the plain one must always avoid anything in her dress that will by comparison only emphasize her lack of beauty; smart and "chic" she may be, but all frilleries must be set aside.

In addition to these unconscious accessories the fit of her gowns is of the utmost importance. She should buy materials of good quality and employ the best dressmaker that she can afford.

Two or three well made dresses will be better than a dozen of mediocre workmanship and fabric. Let her first consider her needs carefully, then make her choice. In regard to styles, they may be, nay, should be, up-to-date, with due regard to becomingness, of course, at the same time all extremes, especially those on the picturesque order, should be avoided. A neat, smart hat or toque will be a good taste always, while a Gainsborough picture variety will be apt to challenge unfavorable comparison.

Too youthful effects are likewise fatal. This, however, does not mean that all prettiness must be set aside, but that light tones should be used with discretion, and only those adopted that are actually becoming. Successful grooming is a much more difficult matter in summer than in winter, for rich, deep colors, soft velvets and handsome furs are all exceedingly kind to the plain woman.

Tailor-made frocks are really best for the average figure, and a clever tailor can do a great deal by way of improvement with little judicious padding, so that even a high priced suit will be a splendid investment. Over trimming should be avoided, but this matter is best left to the tailor, it being impossible to lay down any hard and fast custom because, as I say, the plain woman belongs to the particular type.

Above all, the hair should be modestly and becomingly dressed. This is imperative, so that if nature has not been generous then artificial curls, etc., must be resorted to, for a pretty coiffure is generally the salvation of a plain woman. Neatness, too, is an important factor. Her collars must be immaculate and her veils without a shadow of a crease. The wisps of hair out of place on the head of a pretty woman is sometimes only an added attraction, but will suggest nothing short of untidiness seen on a plain one. A hat with a slight tilt on the head may be jaunty looking on a beauty, but worn by the less fortunate person may give the opposite impression and appear slovenly. Shoe strings must be tied neatly and firmly, and gloves should have every button in place. There should be no dangling ornamentation, as fluttering ribbons or vells, a chiffon or net neckeruche, however, will often be a charity.

As plainness of face and figure does not belong to any particular type the same may be said in regard to age, many a debutante daughter being far behind her mother in good looks.

Now, it seems unkind to a thin, bony girl, plain faced and possibly sallow skinned, just because she is youthful to provide for her the conventional outfit of the debutante, for the fluffy white tulle and chiffon gowns, the short sleeves and the decollete neck, so delightful on a plump, pretty girl, are positively startling worn by her scrawny sister, yet this young woman might be almost a beauty covered in flame color or sunset yellow, with sleeves on the picturesque order, covering the red arms to the elbow, perhaps, and the deep decollete filled in with deep ivory lace or folds of tulle. Let all her accessories be in keeping and surely such a toilet will be a complete success.

EASY, BUT BAD POLICY TO BE SO REALLY EXCLUSIVE

The True Gentlewoman Will Always Show Herself Kind and Gracious to All Those Less Fortunate.

It is the easiest thing in the world to be exclusive; anyone can shun their friends, acquaintances, and all amusements, and shut themselves out from the world and the joy of life. But people who adopt such a policy are really very shallow and narrow-minded. Any one who takes up an attitude of being too superior to associate with any girl who is not their equal in birth or station, has a miserly mind, and will become so wrapped up in their own vainglory and self-conceit that in time their fellow-creatures will shun them like a plague.

A broad, open mind will see the folly of standing aloof from their fellow-creatures. A whole-hearted and generous person will find it impossible to ridicule, scorn, and avoid those who may not be so advantageously placed as themselves. Only the mean-spirited community can play the high horse.

The true gentlewoman, whether she be that either by birth or naturally so, will always be kind and gracious to those less fortunate than herself. There are in America to-day as true gentlewomen in mind, thought and feeling who follow humble callings and toil for their daily bread as can be found anywhere. They are the backbone of our country, and exclusiveness among them is unknown, save perhaps in some exceptional cases. By being exclusive we never know what we might miss. For instance, not long ago, a certain lady who declared that she could not really know "inferiors," and would only associate with her own class, refused an introduction to another lady because she was a struggling artist. The artist heard of this, but being broad-minded laughed it off. She shortly afterward married a man whose position, both socially and financially, was everything that could be desired. Imagine the chagrin of the lady who scorned to know her.

Some people imagine that if they keep to themselves there is less chance of meeting temptation, that may be so, but it is a very cowardly way of looking at things. And sometimes exclusiveness is another form of selfishness. It is too much trouble for some folk to participate in their fellow-creatures' joys and worries. They forget that "Since life is a thorny and difficult path, Where toil is the portion of man, We all should endeavor while passing along To make it as smooth as we can." True happiness is to be found in trying to discover all that lies best in others. We cannot do this if we keep to ourselves and refuse to associate with other people. We can only come into the full realization of a joyous life by throwing in our lot with those around us. But we must take care in so doing to see that all our friends are desirable. Remember that the world judges us by our friends.

TAKE TIME IS RULE OF THE BEAUTIFUL WOMAN

"Dollars for beauty, but not an hour's time," paraded a successful beauty specialist, as he leaned back resignedly, after rushing through a message.

"The American woman will pay any price for cosmetics, masks, nostrils, lotions and powders, and she will give time to their application. Some of our wealthiest customers greet me almost invariably with this—'Now, Thomas, you must make haste. I have an appointment with Mrs. Blank in an hour.'"

"They will pay anything for remedies that they can swallow at one gulp and trust to work while they sleep, but as for a quiet restful treatment at the hands of a specialist, they honestly begrudge the time."

"Another thing, the American woman does not allow herself time for making a toilet. I have been giving a customer a treatment, when a friend would enter the room and exclaim, 'Why, my dear, aren't you going to Mrs. D—'s tea?'"

"The reply is always 'Certainly, but I don't take all day to dress.' I've known women who considered themselves good dressers to allow just half an hour to dress for the theater. Preposterous! Madame Bernhardt allows an hour and a half for her hair dressing and facial make-up alone. A French woman regards fifteen minutes spent on the correct and sure adjustment of her veil as time well spent.

Women are always complaining that beauty formulas are not worth the trouble of procuring, when in half the cases inquiry proves that the most superficial trial was given though full results were expected.

The beauty specialist, the writer on this interesting topic, has not yet been born who can perform miracles on neglected complexions, hair and hands. The woman who has never cared much how her hands looked because she was too busy to do housework all her life, becomes hysterical when, her husband having made money suddenly, she learns that a specialist or an expert manicurist cannot give her lily-white, tapering fingers just because her husband can now afford to buy them for her.

"If you want to improve your looks, you must take time and have patience. You cannot apply a hair tonic every night for a week, and then, because the housecleaning has made you tired or the spring sewing has rushed you, go to bed for three nights running without applying any tonic at all. If you want to keep your hair glossy and your skin little every day, and if you want nice hair you must brush it every day. If you want shapely hands you must use your manicuring outfit every day. If you want a good complexion you will not secure it by taking internal remedies and using expensive cosmetics, when you will not allow time for a daily bath, the use of the flesh brush and proper massaging."

CAN TELL WHAT PERSON LOOKS LIKE BY HIS VOICE

She Certainly Has a Blonde Voice Says Man Who Talked to "Central" He Did Not See.

Didst ever hear tell of the blonde voice? In a down-town establishment, where I sometimes avail myself of a desk, there sweetly exists a telephone girl, says a writer in the Boston Transcript. Yesterday a visitor came thither and addressed his representations to the amber-haired stenographer, attempting to sell her a remedy for the corns that appear, from time to time, upon telephone girls' ears. "The idea," exclaimed the stenographer, "I'm not the telephone girl, she's the young lady with the beautiful blonde pompadour yesterday." And then the intruder explained his blunder by saying he had been speaking with the operator over the phone, and that she "certainly had a blonde voice." I suppose he meant canary.

Strange, the impressionism that goes with voices! Once I talked for five minutes by telephone with a gentleman I had never seen. Later he burst into an office containing a dozen silent men, picked me out at a glance, and resumed the conversation without so much as introducing himself. When I expressed my amazement, he told me voice had given him a fairly clear notion of my appearance.

The psychologists will some day explain, I suppose, how some folks mind connect visual with aural impressions, and not infrequently hit the nail on the head. When that day arrives they will also explain what recently befell me in a restaurant. The waitress, bringing me a cup of coffee, asked, "Did you order coffee, or was it tea?"

"Coffee," I replied.

"Well, I clean forgot," she exclaimed, "and when I told the cook I'd forgotten, he said, 'How does the man look?' I told him how you looked, and he said, 'The man wants coffee.'"

HUBBY HAS TO LISTEN TO WIFE'S HARD CALL DOWN

She Draws the Record on Him Showing How Vanity Is Pre-eminent Trait of the Masculine Sex.

"Vanity," said the husband, as his wife tried on her new Easter outfit before the cheval glass. "Vanity, the curse of little maids."

But the lady, who was literary, ran for her note book.

"Vanity is the sign of a little mind, is it?" she cried. "Well, listen to this. This is from Gibbon's diary."

And she read:

"I am the greatest historian that ever lived. No one can equal me in this direction."

"Or this," she went on, "from a letter that John Ruskin wrote to Alexander Mitchell:

"What in the devil's name have you to do with either Mr. Gladstone or Mr. Disraeli? You are stupid as the wall with vanity, and have no business with politics than you have with rat catching. Had you ever read ten words of mine (with understanding) you would have known that I care no more for Mr. Disraeli or Mr. Gladstone than for two old bagpipes with the drones going by steam, but that, with Carlisle, I stand, we two alone in England, for God and the queen."

For this, from Victor Hugo's famous letter to Lamartine:

"The giant greets the giant; the foe, the foe; the friend the friend. I hate thee furiously because thou hast humbled France. I love thee because I am greater than thou art. Thou wert silent when the bell in the tower of my fame struck my nineteenth year. I speak when the stolen clock on thy writing table unwillingly announces to thee that thou hast entered the seventies. I am eighty, nay, I am eight and thou art seven, and mankind is the cipher behind each of us. Were we allied as one man, history would cease. Thou art the body, I am the soul, thou art the cloud, I am the lightning; thou art the might, I am the fame. Who is the greater, victor or vanquished? Neither. The poet is greater than either, for he celebrates both."

Closing her notebook, the lady returned to the mirror.

"Don't talk to me about vanity after that," she said.

HOMELESS BABES PEDDLED BY WOMAN "MERCHANT"

Infants Collected From Hospitals and Sold on Commission Is Charge Made in Court.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Amazing charges that baby boys and girls are brought and sold in Chicago by "commission merchants" in exactly the same manner as lap dogs are sold to fashionable society women, were made by Attorney Saul G. Erbshten yesterday before City Judge Sadler in the Desplaines street Police Court.

Men Prefer Beauty to Brains.

Unquestionably most men prefer beauty to brains, pretty women to clever ones, when it comes to the matter of personal taste. Of course, no man would admit himself willing to marry an absolute fool merely because she had a pretty face, in theory, oh, no! But if the little fool, in addition to being a beauty, is smiling, engaging and withal appealing of manner, she is precisely the woman whom most men, however clever, even brilliant, choose for wives and as a sweetheart.—Mabel Oakland in Chicago Tribune.

Attorney Erbshten charged, that Mrs. Marie Bowen of 88 Ogden avenue, who recently was sued for divorce by her husband, Wilfred W. Bowen, president of the Chicago Electric Motor and Fan Company, has for years been in the practice of securing infants from so-called "hospitals" and then peddling them about the city.

Mrs. Bowen was not in court when the charges were made, and Judge Sadler at once issued a subpoena for her appearance.

According to the woman's husband and Attorney Erbshten, Mrs. Bowen has had a "working agreement" with several hospitals.

It can be kept bright by means of frequent washings in hot water and soap.

In washing egg cups or dishes that have become stained with egg, let them soak for awhile in cold water, then use hot water and soap.

The spring house cleaner should remember that carpets should not be laid on a floor that has not been allowed to become thoroughly dry, if she would avoid moth.

THE OPEN WINDOW MEANS GOOD HEALTH

If you wish to be healthy and to sleep well, you are advised by the medical world to keep your windows open night and day. Fresh air is always pleasant and invigorating, but for those who live in town—particularly the dwellers in an upper flat—there is the disadvantage of having to struggle with the multitude of smuts which travel into your room on the wings of the wind and make everything you touch absolutely filthy. Here is a simple recipe for keeping out, to a great extent, these dirty little invaders. Nail a piece of gauze about nine inches deep across the upper part of the window frame on the outside. It must be stretched rather tightly, and a coarse butter muslin or canvas will be found to answer the purpose admirably, a pale dull green color for preference. Then your window can always remain open; you get the air but the smuts do not get in—they are trapped by the muslin, says Home Notes.

You can do the same at the bottom of the window frame if you like to open the lower half as well, and here the muslin might be cut slightly deeper. It keeps out the flies and other intrusive insects, but it does not in any way impede your view. This is a wrinkle worth considering to those who love cleanliness.

HOLD TRAIN FIVE MINUTES FOR FAT WOMAN TO DRESS

Heartrending Rip Causes Men to Flee and Women to Rush to Rescue With Numerous Pins.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27.—"Delayed five minutes for a woman to dress," was the unusual report filed at the office of Superintendent W. J. Hille, of the N. C. and W. L. in explanation of the lateness of a passenger train from the South, due in Paducah at 1 P. M. According to the verbal statement of the conductor, a woman of ample proportions boarded the train at Benton and walked as far forward in the coach as she could get. At Oak Station she turned the aisle toward the rear platform, but when in the middle of the last car her dress caught on a seat. There was a rip, a flash of white, and then the fat lady collapsed in the aisle. She had torn off necessary habiliments. The woman in the car formed a protecting circle around her until the men had adjourned. Her station having been reached, the train had to be held while she dressed herself, repaired the damage with pins and got off.

THE MIDDLER

AN INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT.

The most interesting engagement of the summer is the recently announced one of Miss Ruth V. Adams and Mr. Frank Godfrey. Miss Adams was for years a resident of Oakland and is one of the handsomest and most popular girls of her set. She has large gray eyes and brown hair, a clear rosy complexion and a most stunning Junoesque figure. She dresses particularly well, having an ample fortune in her own right, and is specially stunning in the all-black decollete evening gowns which she affects. Miss Adams has much vivacity and a great deal of manner. Since her return from abroad where she spent several years, she has been for the greater part of the time the guest of her sister, Mrs. John P. Jackson of Burlingame.

Mr. Godfrey is a fine looking Englishman, six feet tall and as his bride is nearly his own height they will be a most distinguished couple. Mr. Godfrey is interested in mines in Nevada, and his father owns a large fruit orchard near Riverside where the junior Mrs. Godfrey will become a member of the interesting English polo-playing colony which "runs things" socially in Riverside and Pasadena.

No date has as yet been set for the wedding but it is understood that it will be an event of the early fall. Many friends will wish Miss Adams the most sincere happiness and will shower congratulations on Mr. Godfrey for the winning of so charming a bride.

ENTERTAINING THE LONGWORTHS.

Wednesday was an eventful day across the bay for on that day Congressman and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth were in town and were "advertised by their loving friends" as the endorsements of patent foods for infants put it. The day began with an automobile trip to Burlingame in Rudolph Spreckels' car and a luncheon at the Burlingame Club at which Mrs. Spreckels was hostess. After luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were whisked about the beautiful Burlingame country. At eight o'clock Mrs. Eleanor Martin was hostess at a large dinner of fifty covers, after which fifty more friends came in for an informal reception, also in honor of the Longworths. Mrs. Martin's large home was beautifully decorated, the drawing room in pink hydrangeas and the entrance hall in lavender tones of the same splendid flower. The long table placed diagonally across the big red dining-room was ablaze with velvety gloxinias and the two small round tables were in orchids and begonias and pink carnations.

Mrs. Martin looked exceedingly well in a Rose point lace robe. Mrs. Longworth would never be taken for an American girl. She looks like a French woman and wears her rather light brown hair in a fuzzy pompadour drawn low over her brows, a la Bernhardt. The back hair was coiled in a small flat knot at the middle of the head. No ornaments and no puffs or curls were worn with the exceedingly simple coiffure. Mrs. Longworth's gown was of brown chiffon spangled in gold and copper and worn over an underdress of gold cloth. The fashion of the gown was directorate with a broad belt and was not at all in the prevailing empire style. Some puffed white chiffon was laid across the edge of the decollete. A diamond open-work collar clasped the throat and from the ears hung long pear-shaped pearl pendants surrounded by diamonds attached to small round earrings. These looked as though they might have been heliochroms and added to Mrs. Longworth's quaintly foreign appearance. The President's daughter has large, beautiful eyes, a pretty mouth, a good skin and fine teeth. She is quiet in manner and much more subdued than she was two years ago. She has added some weight which improves her appearance though she is still very slender. Her figure has a decided droop and she has not the high square shoulders of the typical New Yorker. Doubtless all local society will now banish the huge round pearl balls which have recently been screwed into all polite ears. Mrs. Longworth's earrings were so different that the large protruding bulbs will no longer be tolerated. Fortunately most of these pearl doorknobs were not so costly as to preclude their substitution by something else.

Among those who were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were Secretaries Garfield and Strauss, Senator and Mrs. Newlands of Nevada, Baron and Baroness von Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Athol Folger, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deering, Mr. and Mrs. George Cadwallader, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, General and Mrs. Funston, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mendell, Major and Mrs. McKinstry, Miss Alice Hager, Miss Elsie Sperry, Miss Margaret Calhoun, Miss Genevieve Harvey, Miss Jennie Crocker, Miss Emily Wilson, Miss May Colburn, Dr. and Mrs. Reginald Knight Smith, Mrs. Thomas White, Mrs. A. H. Voorhies, Mrs. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Templeton Crocker, E. M. Greenway, James D. Phelan, Edward Tobin, Mr. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Foster, J. Downey Harvey.

It was a brilliant and beautiful dressed company and many of the women wore handsome between-season gowns. Among the noticeable costumes was that of Mrs. Folger, who wore a blue and silver Empire gown of transparent material over a close-fitting underdress of blue silk. She had a wreath of silver in her hair and wore a stunning rope of pearls. Mrs. Sam Knight looked particularly well in a black Empire gown with a panel of Irish lace down the front. Mrs. Tom Magee wore a glitter gown and Miss May Colburn wore a black gown heavily spangled. Miss Elsie Sperry looked particularly pretty in a white lace Empire gown made over pink with tiny tulle rosettes of pink and white over the bare shoulders and arms. Mrs. Cadwallader wore a pale blue and white Empire frock and Miss Alice Hager was particularly stunning in an all-black gown heavily spangled. Mrs. Shorb White wore lavender with a wreath of gold leaves and Mrs. Mendell and Mrs. Funston looked well in pink. The former wore a string of handsome pearls. Mrs. Henry also wore pink. Mrs. Newlands was perhaps the most distinguished looking woman in the company. She has soft gray hair and a very beautiful face with great sweetness of expression and great refinement. Her low gown of gray was set off by an exquisite necklace of emeralds and diamonds. Mrs. Newlands is a daughter of the late Ward McAllister. Mrs. Foster wore black lace over white. Miss Margaret Calhoun wore a pretty girlish frock of flowered chiffon with pink roses and a border of blue on a white ground. This debutante of last winter has her mother's engaging smile. Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels wore white with a pearl and diamond dog collar.

Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Longworth sailed for Hawaii on the Siberia and were accompanied to the dock by a number of friends and acquaintances who wished them bon voyage and filled their cabin with rare flowers. Their automobile trip to Lake county was a most enjoyable one. While at Clear Lake they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammond. Mrs. Hammond was the sister of President Roosevelt's first wife, the mother of Mrs. Longworth, who died when Mrs. Longworth was born. The first Mrs. Roosevelt was Miss Alice Lee, a society girl of Boston, whom Theodore Roosevelt met when he was a student at Cambridge. There was a boy and girl affair and they were married almost immediately upon the graduation of the president from Harvard. Alice Lee Roosevelt was born a year and a half later and it was not until the present Mrs. Longworth was six years old that Mr. Roosevelt married the present Mrs. Roosevelt at St. George's in London.

RETURNED FROM EUROPE.

Mr. W. Frank Pierce returned on Tuesday from Europe and is at his home across the bay. His daughters, who have been spending school and college vacations in the mountains, were at home to welcome him.

DR. LARKEY'S ACCIDENT.

An automobile accident on the Pieta grade in Lake county proved quite startling to the Oakland friends of Dr. A. S. Larkey, as he was one of those thrown over the grade. Several serious cuts about the face and a sprained ankle were the injuries received by Dr. Larkey—injuries fortunately light for what might have been a serious and easily a fatal accident.

HAVE RETURNED FROM NEW YORK.

Mrs. J. Downey Harvey and Miss Anita Harvey returned from New York on Thursday. Miss Harvey went east early in the Spring to secure her wedding trousseau for her marriage to Oscar Cooper, which was to have taken place in April. A severe cold was followed by an ear trouble which required the mastoid operation and, later, a second operation. Miss Harvey is now restored to health. No definite plans have been announced for the wedding for which cards were once sent out.

SECRETARY METCALF RESTING.

Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf are resting in Sonoma county and did not come down to meet the distinguished Washington visitors who have been in town this week. Secretary Metcalf is very tired and can meet his Washington friends at any time. The Metcalfs are enjoying their rest in the country hugely.

PICTURES IN THE MIDDLER.

Miss Edith Snow is at Duncan Springs for a vacation. Miss Lois Davis is a guest at many affairs on this side of the bay.

SHORT WALKING SKIRT.

It is the day of the short walking skirt, so short it sometimes makes one gasp with astonishment. But New York has taken up the fad and one and all, young women and old, now wear short walking skirts.

All the new tailor gowns are being ruthlessly "chopped"—and so are the pretty new summer silks—and even though the elderly women and the stout women are at their very worst, their gowns follow the latest fashion, and have beaten a retreat upwards. But the short gown calls for more accessories that the average woman is in danger of forgetting, and instead of being smartly gowned, representing the last cry from Paris, London, and New York, she is apt to be very ridiculous.

One reads that it is in dress costumes, the out of door dress street costumes, that American women make their greatest mistakes, and indulge in vagaries that astonish the observant. American women fall short of the perfection of dressing because they are careless of the smaller details—such as gloves, stockings, hats. No matter how perfect a frock may be if these details are not in harmony, the whole effect is a failure.

The majority of the young New York women of good family and plenty of money and more or less excellent social position may be seen promenading Fifth avenue in short skirted walking costumes, topped by immense hats and completed as to footwear with pumps or low shoes, having French heels and no soles to speak of, and probably open work hose.

The short skirt should never be topped by an ornate hat. The hat may be large, but never of the "picture" variety, and it should be simply trimmed with wings, ribbons, or wreaths of flowers.

erately thick soles, and they are much easier to walk in. The heels should be low—the Cuban heel, and never the French or Louis peg. Black boots and shoes are always a proper combination with any sort of walking costume. So if we will persist in chopping off our gowns it is quite as well for us to learn to carry out the many details which will make the short costume appropriate and effective.

CALIFORNIANS IN EUROPE.

Many more Californians than usual are registered in the large cities of Europe this year.

Victor Henderson and Doctor Rheinhart are making a most interesting tour of England, and they spent some enjoyable days with Mark Twain in London.

Both attended the recent commencement at Oxford university when a degree was bestowed upon Mark Twain.

Doctor Roy K. Belden recently sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm for Europe. Doctor Belden goes to Berlin, where Mrs. Belden and his little daughter are visiting relatives.

Doctor Belden's home was for so many years on this side of the bay that he has many friends here. Mrs. Belden went abroad immediately after the earthquake, and has been for some months at her old home in Berlin.

ity, and her niece, Miss Violet Whitney, is often her guest.

Miss Annie Brewer, who is at the head of the English department in the high school, is spending the summer in Europe. Miss Brewer, with a party of friends, has just made a delightful expedition through Spain.

Another traveler in Europe this year is Miss Henrietta Simpson, sister of Mrs. T. L. Barker. Miss Simpson is a most enthusiastic traveler, and last year she returned from a trip to China and Japan.

She has recently been in Spain, and in other interesting Mediterranean countries, and she does not expect to return to America for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walton Tully returned to America recently, and are expected in California in the near future.

A charming little book, "Good Night," has just been issued by Thomas Y. Crowell of New York. The book is by Eleanor Gates, and is the story of a most fascinating Spanish parrot—a wicked little parrot—but who achieves greatness through sacrifices. The setting of the story is typically Californian—the garden of an old Spanish mission—and the illustrations, the padres in the old Mission gardens, are as interesting as they are beautiful. The book would make a very graceful and rare gift for birthday and holidays.

Miss Nora Connell is in Italy, in the little town of Rapallo, and is studying hard along musical lines this summer. She is to have a studio in Oakland when she returns to California. Miss Connell has a very sweet soprano voice, and she has been requested enough to sing often for the Ebell club. She is a great friend also of Mrs. Oscar Long.

The Misses Touchard have arrived in Europe and are spending some weeks in Paris. Late in the autumn they go to Rome, where they plan to spend the entire winter. They have been in Rome before and have enjoyed there who help to make their stay in Rome of unusual interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Curtis are in Italy, and a shower of post cards to friends here mark their progress through that historic country. When last heard from they were in Naples, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Adams and their small son are planning to join them in the late summer.

Mr. and Mrs. von der Ropp and their children have been recently in London, visiting the Webbs. Mrs. Webb is Mrs. von der Ropp's sister. Their father and mother are also with them in London, so there was a delightful family reunion when the Californians arrived.

The Webbs are well-known in London, where they have charming social connections.

Mr. and Mrs. De Young and their daughters Helen, Constance and Kathleen have also arrived in London, and are going later to Paris. The De Young girls are very charming, very cultured, and they have spent so much of their school life on the continent that they have many friends abroad. They are always quite at home in Paris.

MISS BROWN IN PORTLAND.

Miss Katherine Brown is having a very delightful time with friends in Portland, Oregon. She will return to town in a few days, and will join her family, who have taken a house for the summer at Glen Ellen.

PLAN A SUMMER TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. William Letts Oliver are planning a summer trip to southern California. Mr. Oliver is an enthusiastic automobilist, and he is planning to make the trip to Los Angeles in his new steam white touring car. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will have with them their children, Miss Carolyn Oliver and Ralph and Leslie Oliver.

OAKLANDERS AT BROOKDALE.

The little colony of Oaklanders who are at Brookdale this summer are entertaining each other in royal fashion. There are informal picnics, and teas and card parties, the latter given on the most fascinating porches and wide verandas.

On Thursday of this week Mrs. H. C. Capwell was hostess at an informal card party which included all her friends at Brookdale. It was planned along original lines and was most enjoyable.

MRS. HENSHAW IN THE EAST.

Mrs. William Henshaw and her daughters have arrived in the East, and they spent some days recently in New York. They will spend the rest of the summer in automobile trips in the Adirondacks and White mountains. Motoring is the great summer pastime in the east, and the roads are so good that the expeditions are thoroughly enjoyable. Mrs. Henshaw knows how to plan ideal trips, and she and her beautiful daughters make a group of travelers interesting and charming.

FRANK HAVENS TO LEAVE FOR EAST.

Mr. Frank Havens leaves for the east, for his home at Sag Harbor, the first of August. At Sag Harbor in August, Mr. and Mrs. Havens will entertain a house party, most of whom are their relatives. In the party will be Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Engle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maxwell, the Misses Maxwell, and Miss Avis Sterling.

Mrs. Oscar Long is with Mrs. Frank Havens at Sag Harbor, and will not return to Oakland until the latter part of August.

MRS. MINEAR TO OPEN COTTAGE.

Mrs. George W. McNear, Sr., is planning to open her cottage at Port Costa early in August, and of course she will have with her her children and grandchildren. They all represent a large and interesting group, and the family reunions are charming.

Mr. and Mrs. McNear are always happiest when they have with them their children and grandchildren, and Mrs. McNear is so sweet and generous to them all, that they are extremely fond of her. Port Costa has a delightful climate, and one may spend very happy days in a steam launch or in a yacht, on the picturesque straits.

BRIDGE PLAYERS.

The bridge players are still spending long summer afternoons in their favorite amusement of card playing. And apropos of "bridge" a paragraph about it is being rather widely quoted. "Bridge certainly exerts a great fascination for women. Whether they play well or ill has nothing to do with the question. There was never a game invented before that stood so sturdily between women and mischief. It keeps them steadily indoors through long afternoons that might be ruinously spent in shops. It is a silent game and frivolous small talk. It is a game that calls for no display of dress or jewels, and therefore in its way is a leweler. It teaches the lesson of restraint and self control. It cultivates the memory and strengthens the mind generally. It is also a superior stepping-stone for clever players, to charmed circles, above which they might never have reached without a level head."

Among the very clever bridge players of our city are Miss Elizabeth McNear, Miss Emma McNear, Mrs. A. L. Barker, Mrs. Stolp, Mrs. John Yale, Mrs. T. C. Ooogan, Mrs. R. W. Correll, Mrs. W. D. Sharon, Mrs. Minor Goodall, and in fact the most expert players are to be found in the Monday Afternoon club, the Cosmos and Wheelock clubs—all of whom played "bridge" last winter.

MR. AND MRS. BOWLES ARE BACK.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bowles and their children have returned to town, having spent the spring and early summer months on the continent. They enjoyed many delightful automobile expeditions, especially the trips in Europe where the roads are in superb perfect condition.

RICHARD HAMMOND IN SHASTA.

Mr. Richard Hammond, who is spending his vacation in Shasta, where he is enjoying delightful summer days. He does not expect to return to Oakland until some time in October.

L. G. BURPEE GOES ON TRIP.

Mr. L. G. Burpee has for a vacation trip this week, going to the Sierras, on a fishing and hunting expedition. The late summer is the time in which to thoroughly enjoy the Sierras, early in the summer it is too cold in the mountains.

At Lake Tahoe, to those later July days are Mrs. William G. Palmanteer, and her daughters, Carolyn and Hazel Palmanteer. They will return home early in August.

Mrs. Edson Adams and her daughters are also at Lake Tahoe. One of the most interesting brides of the summer was Miss Grace McCormick, now Mrs. Albert Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Jack are at Tahoe, and Mrs. Jack has some of the very prettiest trousseau gowns worn there this year.

MRS. HEATH RENTS HOUSE.

Mrs. John Heath has rented her house, and with her children Jack and Constance Heath, has gone to Monterey to spend the rest of the summer. Mrs. Heath has a charming little country home there near Pacific Grove, in which her children have very happy times. They will have as guests this summer Miss Helen Cadman and Master Dalliba Thomson. Mrs. Heath's home has been rented for a long time, and she is not planning to return to Oakland for a year or two.

After the summer vacation she is going to Virginia, where both the children will enter well-known boarding schools. Next summer a trip abroad is planned for them.

GUEST OF HIS BROTHER.

Mr. Arthur North has recently been the guest of his brother, Hon. Harb North, at the latter's home in Berkeley.

SOCIAL NEWS of the WEEK

mer in the east. They are in New Hampshire, guests of Mr. Mather's mother, and this summer they have spent some interesting and delightful weeks in the White mountains.

They were the guests of the Misses Hazel and Mildred Moody and Miss Maud Topham. Miss Florence Pardee, the eldest daughter of the family, will enter the University of California in August.

MANY GO TO LAKE COUNTY.

Lake county continues to be the Mecca for travelers this season, and one Monday morning recently there were a hundred and forty travelers on the stage bound from Callistoga for the different springs. Automobileists greatly enjoy the roads through Lake county—they are very dangerous narrow roads—but the elements of danger seem to increase the joy of the venturesome automobilist.

A score of guests were turned away last week at Howard and Adams Springs. At Adams Springs people are camping in tents innumerable, and how they are even served is a problem the outsider could never solve. Beautiful Howard Springs is simply crowded to the doors, and the Messrs. Edward and Walter Layman are ideal hosts—the most hospitable kind of hosts—making everybody welcome.

People are sleeping in hammocks at Howard Springs, but every one is happy. There is so much to do, so much to interest one at the springs this year, that Lake county is simply overrun with summer guests.

Mr. William Layman leaves for Howard Springs early in the week for a much needed rest and for the change of climate that one gets in the mountains of Lake county.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hynes are making a tour of Lake county in their steam White automobile. They have rented their home in Alameda and have taken a house at Piedmont.

The Clarence Crowells are at Laurel Del, Lake county, and Doctor and Mrs. Larkley have been recently guests at Highland Springs. The Montell Taylors are there also, and Mrs. William Morrison and Miss Louise Mahony have a picturesque little cottage at Highland Springs.

A bright little correspondent writes from Highland Springs:

"We take trips from here to the many picturesque springs about us in a motor car that holds six, so we can always have a congenial little party—and of course a good time."

"We went to Witter Springs the other day and received the surprise of our lives. The hotel is simply superb, just as beautifully furnished as the Potter. It is inconceivable how they ever built such a magnificent hotel away up two thousand feet on the mountain, where everything has to be taken up on wagons. It only serves to show California grit and endurance. We go to church in a big bus—nine miles on the mountains and back. The Franciscan fathers have a mission up here in the mountains. They work so hard and lead such lonely lives that it ought to be a lesson to the rest of us who hope to get to Heaven by such easy ways!"

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAMS ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams are entertaining extensively this summer at their home on the McCloud river.

Among their guests are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barnham of Los Angeles. Mrs. Barnham has been ill, but the mountain air of the Sierras will probably bring back to her her oldtime health.

MRS. LYMAN RENTS HOME.

Mrs. Charles O. Lyman has rented her home on the heights this summer, and is spending the season on the continent. Her son is with her and they are now in Paris, where they have apartments at the Hotel St. Maritz.

AMERICANS MOTORING ABROAD.

Telegrams from the continent bring news of many Americans motoring abroad this summer. Among the Americans at Lucerne and Interlaken are many Californians. Among Americans motoring in Switzerland are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Tobin and Mrs. Edwin R. Diamond, of San Francisco, who have come over the Brunig Pass from Interlaken.

DENIS O'SULLIVAN'S GREAT SUCCESS.

Out of town people have been coming back to town for a day or two, called home for a brief stay by the unusual attractions at our theaters. It has never happened before that there has been such a wealth of dramatic events from which one may choose. Denis O'Sullivan has simply crowded "Ye Liberty" to the doors. Just a few steps away Maude Adams has had packed houses at the Macdonough, while every night the Idora park theater sees large and appreciative audiences at "The Merry War," which is exceptionally well sung—full of life, vigor and enthusiasm.

Many well known people were seen at our local theaters this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hearst, with a party of friends, motored down from the Hacienda, and enjoyed both Peter Pan and Arrah na Pogue. A large theater party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Engs, Dr. and Mrs. Proctor.

In one of the boxes at Ye Liberty was a party made up of Mr. and Mrs. George McNear, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John McNear, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McNear. In another box were Mr. and Mrs. John F. Connors, Mrs. Denis O'Sullivan and Miss Mollie Connors.

An informal dinner was given for the O'Sullivans by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Connors, who entertained for them in their home on Jefferson street.

Others seen at the various theaters this week were Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brock, Miss Ethel Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Prather, Miss Edna Prather, Miss M. Dunn, Miss Mary Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brown, Miss Rose Kales, Miss Anita Thomson, Miss Minnie McGlinchey, Miss Ruth Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. George Jensen, Miss Beattie Coghill, Mr. John Trainor, Mrs. T. B. Coghill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Schrock, Mrs. MacDermot, Miss Flora MacDermot, Mrs. J. C. Tucker, Mrs. A. S. Macdonald and Children, Mr. and Mrs. George McNear, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton, Mrs. Charles Parcells, Mrs. Charles J. Woodbury, Miss Ruth Woolbury, Miss Sarah Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Luning, Mrs. Homer Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Neville, Mr. and Mrs. George Bornemann, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Wharton.

HE HAS A SPECIAL CHARM.

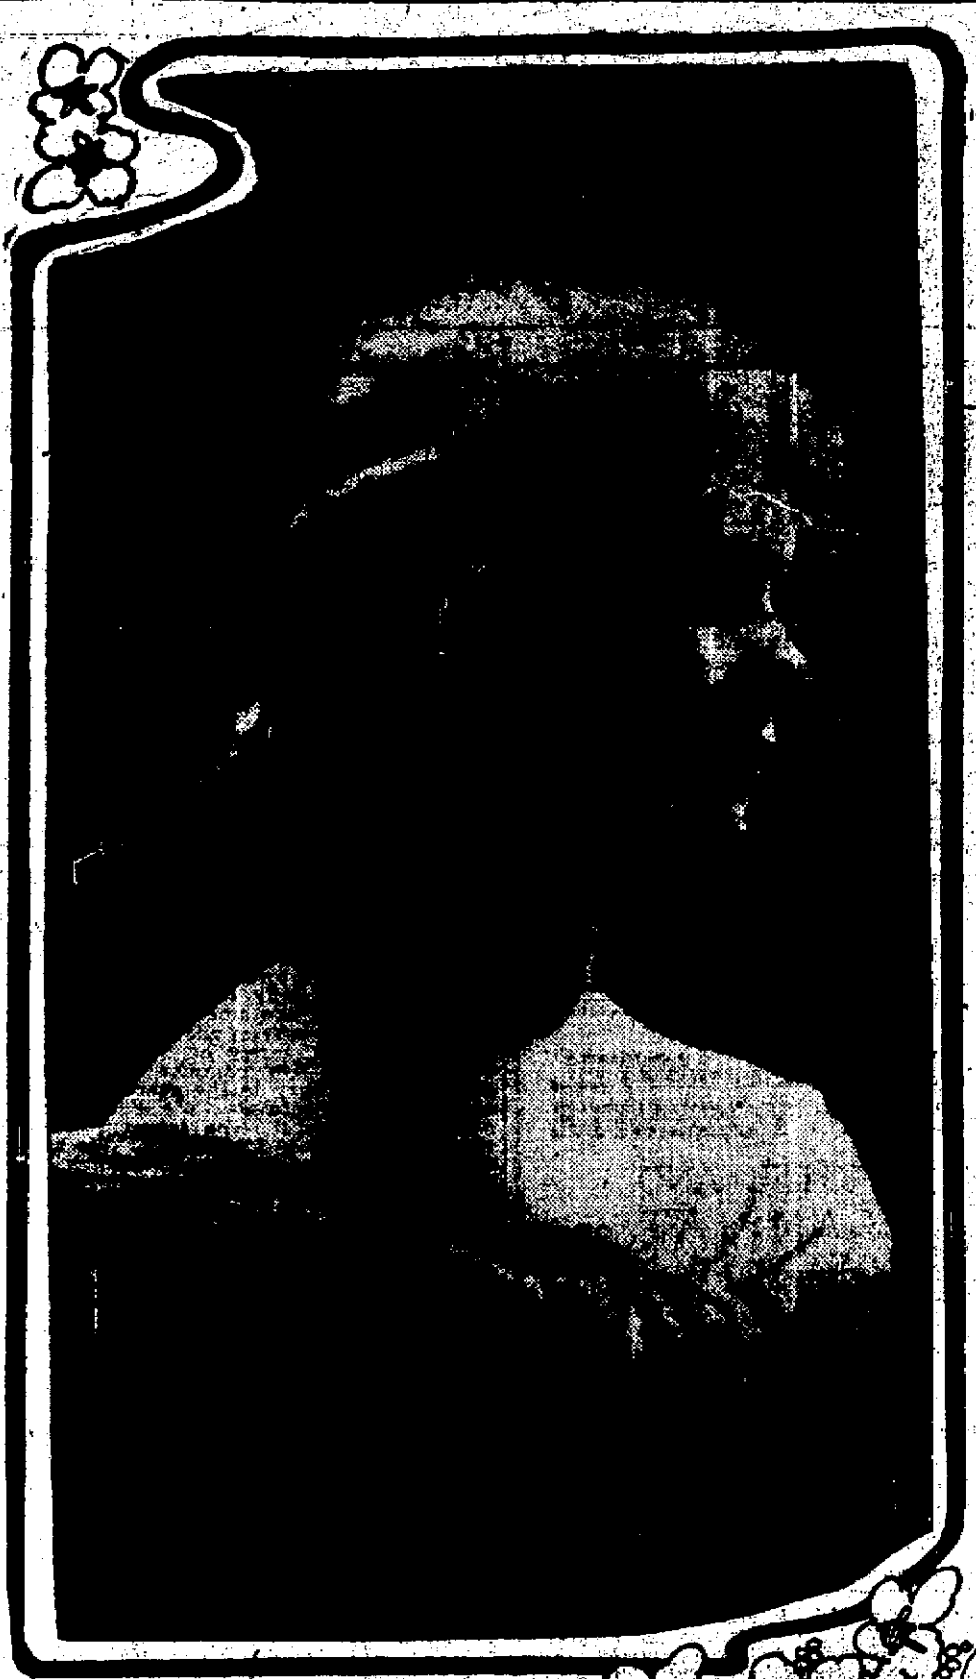

Mr. Denis O'Sullivan, one of the leading actors on the stage today, is to be with us two weeks longer, and he bids fair to pack "Ye Liberty Play House" to the doors while he plays here. He is always a success, so it is of course nothing new for him to succeed in Oakland, but for us his style of acting is so new, so virile, that it carries its own special charm. And apropos of his plays, it is remarkable how the Celtic in literature and the drama is forging its way to the center place of interest. It makes one think that the pendulum has swung too far in the world of realism, and is now swinging back to that world wherein lies imagination, and the more sweet and tender emotions of life. The Saturday Review this week has for its main article "The Soul of the Celtic Race." And a few sentences linger with one: "The wild, tender, and poignant elements that enter into the makeup of the human heart are written large in the Celtic race."

"Dark and mysterious fancies linger there in hearts that carry to this day echoes of fairy music, half terrible, half beautiful."

"Around their islands is the everlasting murmur of the sea, and on their hills the wind forever calls. And when they tell us tales, it is as though we listened to the sighing of the waves or the tumult of storm. They are like people who have stepped within the fairy ring and been enchanted. They still keep an altar and a fire, and when the world is weary of its workshop and its ashes, it may be glad to turn to these strange, and guardians of the sacred flame for a spark whereby to light its torch once more."

"What is the secret of the Celt? Have fairy fingers reached up through the heathen and touched his eyes, so that he sees beauty where we see ugliness?"

"For who shall measure the value of a dream, an enthusiasm, a conviction? Most of us nowadays are afraid to believe anything utterly, to care for anything desperately, to loosen entirely our grasp of the material. Not so with these Celts and Gaels. It is easy not to fear anything, they do not fear themselves. They speak a flaming word which has its place in the world's language."

And it is this "flaming word" which Denis O'Sullivan interprets for us in the plays which he has brought to us. He is so young, so enthusiastic, so full of the very characteristics he is supposed to assume that he loses his identity and lives the play himself, carrying the audience off with him to "the green isle" in which the bit of human life has its environment.

It takes superb acting to whisk one off to another world, and to hold one there for hours. But Denis O'Sullivan does that, and he leads one through all the gamut of human emotions; one smiles at the rare wit—at the humor which lies so close to tears—and there are tears indeed for the rare pathos, for the tragedies which lie deep down in human hearts.

All this is expressed in Denis O'Sullivan's interpretation—it is the finer emotions of life that he represents, the higher values that make of life the noble thing it is.

Few plays are put on with the fine attention to details that one sees at "Ye Liberty" this week. The costume and staging generally is perfect, and they add much to one's enjoyment of the play. Everything moves swiftly under the spell of O'Sullivan's splendid enthusiasm.

The real horse—the real village cart—Mr. Bishop's own; the costumes true to life, the dancing, all make up a splendid ensemble. And one must not forget Mr. O'Sullivan's magnificent singing; there is the jolly, rollicking "Peggy in the Low-Backed Car," the sweet and haunting "Believe Me If All These Endearing Young Charms," and "The Wearing of the Green," sung as only a great artist like O'Sullivan can sing it. He is to sing at Carnegie hall this winter, and we can imagine the enthusiasm of the New Yorkers, when this artist new to them, brings his message.

Well, he is a Californian, and we will be proud of his success, in whatever part of the world he wins his laurels.

ENJOY THEIR AUTO TRIP.

Among those who are enjoying automobile trips in these July days are the William Pierce Johnsons and the Horry Meeks. The Meeks are now in Santa Barbara where they are the guests of friends.

VISITED AT CARMEL.

Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton and Mrs. Alpheus Clement have spent some interesting weeks this summer at Carmel by the Sea, where they had a cottage. They have returned to town, and Mrs. Brayton has re-opened her home in Alice street.

SAVED FROM DEATH.

There is much rejoicing by their friends in the Lakeside district on the fortunate escape from death of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hearst and their daughter Hazel Ingels, who were passengers on the ill-fated Columbia. A few months ago Mr. Ingels, who is a wealthy lumber dealer, came to Oakland, and purchased what was formerly the Belden home on Lake street.

A few days ago the Ingels started on a pleasure trip to Alaska, planning to make the first stage of the trip on the Columbia to Portland. They were in the wreck, with the most harrowing experiences. Mr. Ingels and his daughter Hazel were rescued from the water, and taken to Eureka.

Mrs. Ingels and another woman were in one of the small boats, both clad in only their night clothes, and it was nearly twenty-four hours before their boat reached Shelter Cove.

Their summer trip has ended so disastrously that the Ingels are coming home. Their son, Oscar Ingels, remained here, and the wreck of the Columbia brought many anxious hours to him, and to the friends of the family here.

ORRICKS AT COUNTRY HOME.

The Oliver S. Orricks are at their country home, "Viola del Valle," in the foot hills near Los Gatos. Mrs. Orrick has with her this summer her charming southern niece, Miss Entz, whose home is in Maryland. The Murray Orricks have often been weekend guests at the picturesque country home of the family this summer.

ENTERTAINING FRIENDS.

The Colliers have been entertaining very extensively this summer at their picturesque country home on the shores of Clear lake. Among their guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Roy Macdonald, and their little son. Mrs. Macdonald was formerly Margaret Collier, one of the most attractive of the Collier girls.

Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt, formerly Kate Clement, is a guest at the Collier home this week.

INTERESTING EVENTS.

There are so many interesting events to absorb one's time that it is not at all a dull summer. In fact one might have an engagement for every day in the week if one chose to.

The Petchnikoff recital was one of the events of the week, and though there was not a large audience present, it was a most appreciative one, and the Russian artists must have been greatly pleased at the enthusiastic reception accorded them.

There is nothing in all the world finer than that splendid Greek theater, such a magnificent setting for the expression of rare genius. The public greatly appreciates the Greek Theater, and the symphonies under the direction of Doctor Wolfe have been a splendid success. The university orchestra is now an assured thing, much to the joy of every one who loves to watch the development of the artistic on our coast. Usually there are more than five thousand people at a symphony concert, but the attendance on Thursday was not good. This was for two reasons. The first, that many people are out of town, and the second, that the concert was not sufficiently advertised. Madame Lili Petchnikoff is charming. She is a true artist, and she plays admirably. In that big Greek theater she made a beautiful picture—looking very picturesque indeed in a blue gown, with long flowing sleeves. Her dark hair was parted, waved back from her forehead, and fastened with a great red rose. And as she stood people that carry one off to the fairyland of one's childhood, and keep one there entranced. They are such a lovely lot, Peter Pan, Wendy, Tinker Bell and all the rest of them.

L'Aiglon is a different story, with elements of great strength in the play, and it will be one of the leading social events of the week, since everyone seems to be going.

There never was a summer time quite like this one. In the old prehistoric days before the earthquake, Oakland slumbered peacefully all through the uneventful summer. Now "men may come and men may go," but it makes little difference—the great busy stream of life moves on, as befits a great city. Everywhere is insistent life. Oakland has come into its own!

SUMMER PLANS.

Mrs. H. C. Taft and Miss' Chrissie Taft will spend the late summer in town. Miss Taft has been with Miss Edith Selby at Santa Barbara during the early season.

A party of friends including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shay, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mercur, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitehead returned for a few days this week after a fortnight spent at Camp Vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead went to the Geysers for a second trip the rest of the party starting again for a camping trip in Placer county.

34 YEARS UNHAPPY, SAYS SECRETLY MARRIED LAST JUNE, COUPLE WIFE SEEKING DIVORCE

JUDGE WARNS AGAINST TESTIMONY OF ORCHARD

Long Charge to Men Having Life of Miner in Keeping Considered Fair by Both Sides in Case.

Woman During Court Proceedings Shakes Fist in Husband's Face Until He Shouts for Help.

Although the utmost of secrecy was observed by Attorney A. L. Frick when he filed the complaint for divorce brought by Louise Homer against Louis Homer, a well known musician of Alameda and the leader of the orchestra in the Columbia Theater, San Francisco, the story of the family troubles came to light yesterday when Louise Homer Jr. and his sister made public the struggle between their father and mother. A number of the family acquaintances were familiar with the troubles, but always sympathized with the wife and kept the matter within the family circle.

Charges of extreme cruelty and infidelity were brought in the sensational divorce suit. Kate Frick of Alameda is accused of making the trouble in the family. Young Homer tells of his father's attention to the woman and Mrs. Homer, in her divorce complaint, says her husband is never backward in keeping company with the Briones woman, who walks arm and arm with him on many public occasions. For the thirty-four years of her married life Mrs. Homer says she has lived in unhappiness. For the last eight years Homer is accused of neglecting to support her.

Mrs. Homer says she frequently beat her, telling her a good for nothing woman. Much of the time she says she was sick, and it was very often on these occasions that her husband is said to have treated her cruelly. She says she was compelled to bring suit for divorce last June when her husband is said to have left home and vowed he would never return. The Homers were married in San Francisco in 1873.

EVEN PARENTS DID NOT KNOW

Nuptials Were to Be Celebrated During August.

Fearing her mother would "tell tales out of school," Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Mills was secretly married to John Holman Haverstick in San Rafael, June 22, at the home of the Rev. Father Egan. The parents of the bride were not informed of the marriage until a week ago, when Miss Mills gave up her position with the O. E. Hotel Company, where she officiated as a notary public. Friends of the couple were much surprised to learn of the marriage. Miss Mills, who had quietly informed them all that she would plight her troth August 3 in Los Angeles. Owing to important business the groom could not wed on that day and met Miss Mills on the morning of June 22 at the narrow-gauge depot in Oakland and departed for San Rafael without a soul knowing the motives of his actions.

RATE LAW ROW WAXES FURIOUS

President of Southern Taken by Officer, Who in Turn Loses Him to Another.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 27.—Development came quick and fast in the railroad rate law controversy today. Warrants were issued for President Finley of the Southern Railway, and City Agent O. C. Wilson, of the same road.

The warrant for President Finley was placed in the hands of a policeman who went to the Battery Park hotel to serve the papers upon him. The policeman was the Southern Railway, in the meantime arrangements had been made for habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Pritchard to secure Finley's release.

The policeman did not succeed in reaching the police court with his warrant. Just as the train was ready to leave, a deputy United States Marshal walked into the hotel and took charge of Finley.

The warrant against O. C. Wilson, who recently was sentenced, three days upon the chain gang for violating the new rate law and who was released on habeas corpus by Judge Pritchard in the United States court, was sworn out before Judge Reynolds, who figured as a witness in the proceedings. Wilson was taken into custody and many passengers are said to be compelled to board the train without tickets.

General Counsel Thum and other officials of the Southern, left last night for Raleigh to consult with State officials there in an endeavor to arrive at a settlement of the differences. The attorney who remained here were greatly disturbed by the new turn of events.

FINLEY RELEASED. Judge Pritchard released President Finley just before 1 o'clock.

It was stated here today that the movements of Police Judge Reynolds are being directed from Raleigh, but Judge Merriman, counsel for the State, in the previous habeas corpus proceedings when Division Passenger Agent Wood was arrested, disclosed any knowledge of what was going on and has appealed to Governor Glenn for instructions.

United States Marshal Miliken has arrived from Greensboro, which is believed to show that the federal authorities were not taken by surprise, and the presence of several deputy marshals is commented upon.

WILSON'S CASE POSTPONED.

In the police court Judge Reynolds postponed the trial of Ticket Agent Wilson until today. The railway company, through counsel, offered a bond for Wilson, but Judge Reynolds said he would take personal charge of the prisoner. Later he remarked that Wilson "could follow him around all the time if he wanted to," and then walked off. Wilson went in an opposite direction, and was still at liberty this afternoon.

CONSULT GOVERNOR.

RALPHIGH, N. C., July 27.—Southern railway authorities and attorneys representing it and the Atlantic Coast line arrived from Asheville today and sought a conference with Governor Glenn upon the railway rate litigation. Governor Glenn arranged the council for 3 o'clock. Governor Glenn asked his counsel, Merriam & Merriam at Asheville to continue everything until Monday if possible, because of the consultation this afternoon.

Crushed to Death by Heavy Falling Plank

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—W. J. Morrison, foreman of the teamsters employed by the Southern Pacific company on the new Bay Shore cut off, was crushed to death at 5 o'clock this morning by the falling of a heavy plank. The gang was engaged in raising an enormous block of rock when the plank suddenly gave way, and fell on top of Morrison, pinning him to the ground. The dead man was 50 years of age and was a close personal friend of former Mayor James D. Phelan.

PHYSICIANS, SCIENTISTS, PRINTERS, TO BE ON BOARD

Men Prominent in Different Walks of Life Selected by Mayor Taylor as Supervisors.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—The records of the new men Mayor Taylor has selected to be Supervisors are as follows:

Dr. A. A. D'Ancona is an able physician. He served two terms in what was known as the Phelan-McNab Board of Supervisors. During the doctor's term of office there was no public scandal connected with his name. The board, however, voted for doing away with the telephone company to put in the automatic switch boxes that return the nickels when the operator fails to get the desired switch. This proposition was revoked on the ground that it would cost the telephone company $200,000 to put in the system.

James P. Booth was a printer prior to his selection on the Board of Supervisors by McNab and Phelan. He is a pleasant gentleman with many friends. Since his elevation to the Board of Supervisors Booth has been a man of leisure. He is a member of the Press club and other social organizations.

ON PHELAN BOARD.

H. U. Brandenstein was a member of the Phelan-McNab Board of Supervisors. He is a man of wealth and a forceful talker. At the last election he was defeated for district attorney, although the nominee of the Democratic and the Republican conventions. Brandenstein is a young man, a college graduate and a relative of Mr. A. Gunst.

A. Comte Jr. was a candidate for reelection to the Board of Supervisors two years ago. He was defeated with the rest of the fusion ticket. He is a lawyer and an extensive property owner, but has not practiced his legal profession since becoming a city official, six years ago.

Henry Payot is a retired member of the former firm of Payot, Upham & Co., stationers. Payot is a man of means. In politics he has been closely connected with the former administrations of Phelan and McNab.

PROMINENT MERCHANT.

Gustave Brenner was formerly a member of the firm of L. G. Brenner, wholesale furriers. He is 44 years of age and stands high in the mercantile community in San Francisco. Brenner is a close personal friend of former Mayor James D. Phelan.

George L. Center is one of the best known real estate men in the community. He has been active in improving matters in the Mission. Of late Mr. Center has negotiated a number of large real estate deals for Mr. Harriman. Mr. Center and Mr. Phelan are warm personal friends.

JUDGE WARNS AGAINST TESTIMONY OF ORCHARD

Long Charge to Men Having Life of Miner in Keeping Considered Fair by Both Sides in Case.

BOISE, July 27.—Judge Wood concluded the charging of the jury at 10:59 and at 11:04 a. m. the jury retired. Judge Wood ordered a recess until 2 p. m. At 12:18 the jury retired for luncheon.

The jury remained at luncheon less than 25 minutes, returning to their deliberations at the court house at 12:40 p. m.

BOISE, July 27.—Judge Fremont Wood today delivered his charge to the jury in whose hands rests the fate of William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg of Idaho. He gave to the jury the choice of five verdicts, as follows:

Murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, voluntary manslaughter, involuntary manslaughter, and not guilty.

The charge contained sixty-six instructions. Judge Wood dwelt at length upon the laws of conspiracy and the value of the evidence given by an accomplice.

"The law views such evidence with distrust," he declared, "and it should be received by the jury with caution and scrutinized with great care. And if from the evidence it appears that any favors have been extended by the authorities to Orchard and there is any promise relating to further favors on account of his testimony, these are proper matters for the jury to take into consideration."

BELIEVE CHARGE FAIR. Judge Wood's charge was lengthy, containing more than 12,000 words and covering the case from almost every viewpoint. It was regarded by both sides as eminently fair. If anything, it was the consensus of opinion that the court leaned to the defense. In regard to the corroboration of Orchard, Judge Wood said that the jury should test the value of such evidence by eliminating his testimony with a view to ascertaining if there is independent testimony tending to connect the defendant with the offense.

"This corroborating evidence," the court continued, "need not be sufficient of itself to establish the guilt of the defendant, but it must tend in some degree to implicate and connect the defendant with the commission of the crime charged."

Further along in his charge Judge Wood said: "If it is possible for you to reconcile the facts in this case upon any reasonable theory consistent with the innocence of the defendant, William D. Haywood, it is your duty to do so and find the defendant not guilty."

SIMPKINS'S FLIGHT. "The jury is instructed that the flight of Jack Simpkins, if you find such flight to have taken place, standing alone would not of itself be evidence of the guilt of the defendant. But if you find that Simpkins did after the arrest of Orchard flee or become a fugitive from justice then that fact may be taken into consideration together with the other facts of the case in determining whether or not Simpkins was a member of the conspiracy which the State has sought to prove and of which conspiracy it is claimed by the State that the defendant was a member."

The charging was but half filled when the jury fled in shortly before 10 o'clock. Haywood came in smiling and bowed a salutation to his wife, his mother, his two daughters and sister, the entire family being present. The jury, which consisted of twelve jurymen, who sat directly in front of him, wheeled in their chairs, turned their backs upon the defendant and his attorneys and listened to the charge.

There are three counts in the indictment, but the substance of each of them is the unlawful, willful, deliberate, premeditated and felonious killing of the late Governor Steunenberg, with malice aforethought. The essential elements of the offense charged in the indictment consist of the following features:

"First—There must have been a killing; second, that killing must have been unlawful; third, it must have been willful; fourth, it must have been premeditated; fifth, it must have been accompanied by malice in the view of the law; and sixth, that the killing was done by the defendant, William D. Haywood, or by some person acting in concert with him, and each and everyone of them are proven to your satisfaction beyond a reasonable doubt, then the defendant cannot be convicted of murder in the first degree."

WHEN NOT GUILTY. "If it is possible for you to reconcile the facts in this case upon any reasonable theory consistent with the innocence of the defendant, William D. Haywood, it is your duty to do so and find the defendant not guilty."

"I further instruct you, gentlemen of the jury, that while proof has been admitted of the commission of other crimes by the defendant and his associates, and tending to prove the commission of such other crimes by them, that it has only been admitted for the purpose of establishing the existence of a conspiracy to accomplish certain objects, and that such crimes and the crime resulting in the death of ex-Governor Steunenberg as well as all incidents of such conspiracy, you must not forget that the defendant is being tried for the murder of Frank Steunenberg and for that crime alone. But you are privileged to take such other matters into consideration as part of the evidence in the case and as reasonable circumstances bearing upon the question of his guilt upon the charge of the murder of Frank Steunenberg."

"It makes no difference, however, in this case what crimes have been committed in Colorado, in the Cour d'Alenes or elsewhere, or who is responsible for the commission of such crimes, if any there be. The defendant cannot be convicted unless the State has established beyond a reasonable doubt that he is guilty of the felonious killing of Frank Steunenberg."

DEFINES CONSPIRACY. "A conspiracy, within the meaning of the law, is an agreement between two or more persons for the purpose of accomplishing a criminal or unlawful object, or a lawful object in an unlawful manner. As applied to this case and under this indictment, proof of conspiracy is only proper insofar as it may tend to show a common design to encourage the particular murder charged against the defendant, and it can only be introduced for the purpose of establishing the position of the members of the combine as accessories to the crime of murder."

"It is not essential to the formation of a conspiracy that there should be a formal agreement between the parties to do the act charged. It is sufficient if the minds of the parties meet and understand, fully, so as to bring about an intelligent and deliberate agreement to do such acts, and commit the crime charged, although such agreement be not manifested by any formal words."

"If, however, you believe in this case from the evidence, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the defendant, William D. Haywood, aided, abetted, advised and encouraged the killing of Frank Steunenberg, then the defendant is guilty, and it would be immaterial whether he was actually present at the time of the killing or not."

DISCUSSES ORCHARD. "The jury is instructed that the witness Harry Orchard claims that he was an accomplice in the commission of the offense charged in the indictment. Under the statutes of this State a person cannot be convicted of a crime upon the testimony of an accomplice unless such accomplice is corroborated by independent evidence, which corroborates and without the aid of the testimony of the accomplice, tends to connect the defendant with the offense charged, and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof."

"In order to ascertain whether or not the testimony of the accomplice is corroborated, as by the law it must be before a conviction would be warranted, you should eliminate from your consideration the evidence of the accomplice and examine the evidence of the other witnesses with a view to ascertaining whether or not the evidence tends to connect the defendant with the offense. If there is, the accomplice is corroborated and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof."

IMMUNITY CONTRACT. "If you believe from the evidence that the witness Harry Orchard was influenced to become a witness and to testify in this case by any promise of immunity or reward, or by any hope held out to him that if he testified against the defendant, he would be pardoned or punished, then the jury should take such facts into consideration in determining whether or not the testimony of the witness should be received."

"Such testimony should be received by the jury with caution and scrutinized with great care."

FINAL CAUTION. "Gentlemen of the jury, the court now desires to say into your hands. It is your duty to consider it and deliberate upon it without fear and without partiality, and to render your verdict in accordance with the evidence and the law, and each and everyone of you are sworn to do so. You are to determine this case by the evidence and the law, and each and everyone of you are sworn to do so. You are to determine this case by the evidence and the law, and each and everyone of you are sworn to do so."

THREE STREET CAR ACCIDENTS. Three street car accidents made the record of yesterday. A Sutter street car striking Arthur Morner, a 15-year-old boy, between Stockton street and Grant street, was driven by a Turk street car, and Mr. J. Pudebaugh, a teamster, being thrown from his wagon seat by another car at Hyde and Sutter streets. All three were injured.

DYNAMITE CACHE FOUND. Thirty-six sticks of dynamite were found yesterday by a policeman in a vacant lot at Mission and Beale streets. The explosive was dumped into the bay as a measure of safety.

HURT BY A FALL. James J. Kelly, a sheet metal worker, broke two ribs and fractured the sixth vertebrae of the spine yesterday by falling from a third story scaffold at the junction of Hyde and Sacramento streets.

BREAKING UP REFUGEE CAMPS. The refugee camps are rapidly depopulating and abandoned cottages which have been selling at $75 for three-room structures and $50 for two-room affairs, are now being offered for $50 and $35, respectively.

SPINSTER'S ESTATE. An inventory of the estate of Miss Mary Hamilton, daughter of L. L. Hamilton of the firm of Baker & Hamilton, which was filed yesterday, shows that she had property valued at $195,931.30. Practically all of the estate is in stocks and bonds.

STEAMERS SOON TO CONNECT OAKLAND AND SACRAMENTO

By means of the steamers Captain Weber and Constancia of the California Transportation Company, Oakland is connected with Sacramento and intervening points on the straits and San Joaquin river and, before long, this city will be connected with Sacramento and the intervening towns by way of the Sacramento river and through the instrumentality of the steamers of the same company.

At this writing it is not possible to tell when the run to Sacramento will be effected. The intention of the company is to inaugurate the service just as soon as an elevator which it is erecting in the warehouse in the capital city can be completed.

It has not, as yet been, announced how the run will be made, whether by one or other of the boats named or by other steamers belonging to the company.

FERTILE VALLEYS.

The valleys through which the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers flow are among the most fertile and productive of the state. Annually, they produce millions of tons of fruit and vegetables of all kinds and, of these, by means of the boats of the company referred to Alameda county will be able to secure its share direct from the farmer and horticulturist.

SAVES HANDLING.

This will be a great advantage because, heretofore, all the products of these valleys which are consumed here have had to go to San Francisco and then to be shipped here, some hours, and, in some instances, the greater part of a day, after its arrival on the other side of the bay. This necessitated two handlings before the products could reach the consumer. When the fruit and vegetables were bought by the commission men in San Francisco the local merchant was compelled to experience the annoyance and loss of time of going to San Francisco for the purpose of making his selection. By the time the San Francisco commission men who had a first choice of the cargo, had made their selection, there was little left for consumption on this side of the bay save the poorer grade of stuff which the San Francisco consumer did not care to use.

Under the present system of the California Transportation Company as also of the schooners operated by Hunt, Hatch & Co., products of the kind referred to are now delivered directly to the warehouses in this city and the volume of this delivery will be increased when the steamers of the California Transportation make the run up the Sacramento as they now do up the San Joaquin river.

INCREASE IN FREIGHT LINES.

There is a gratifying increase in the number of shipping lines operating between the city, San Francisco, and other parts all over the world. There are now at anchor in the harbor a number of ocean-going vessels discharging cargoes of various kinds from Great Britain and even China. In the matter of local trade, the Southern Pacific operates two lines between the foot of Market street in San Francisco and the foot of Broadway in Oakland, each making a trip every hour.

The Piper, Aden, Goodall Co. operates two steamers between this city and San Francisco, each of which makes a trip every day. These boats are the steamer Sunol which has a capacity of 161 tons, and the steamer Grace Bartlett, which has a capacity of 101 tons.

The George W. Arper Transportation Company operates one vessel, the F. M. Smith, which is of 101 tons burden.

The commission firm of Hunt, Hatch & Company operates between this city and San Francisco the steamer Susan, which makes one trip daily, and which in the main carries the freight back and forth handled by the Austin Freight and Transportation Company. The firm also runs two gasoline schooners up the Sacramento river—namely, the President and the Etta B. Each of these goes up the river one day and returns on the next day loaded with produce of all kinds.

This ferry service does not include passenger service, which is employed by the Southern Pacific Company, which runs between San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railroad Companies, which represents hundreds of trips daily. This branch of commerce is said to be the most important in the harbor, for the ferries of the Western Pacific begin to ply between this city and the metropolis on the other side of the bay.

G. W. ARPER'S VIEWS.

Regarding the past, present and the promising future of the freight business in Oakland, George W. Arper, proprietor of the Arper Transportation Company at Webster street wharf, said today:

"The commercial activity of Oakland cannot be better illustrated than by comparing the transbay freight traffic of today with what it was two years ago. In the last harbor season the regular hourly boats of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company operating in the harbor from the foot of Broadway, there was a total of 1,000 tons of freight handled. Today there are three companies operating five vessels—namely, the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company, The Oakland Transportation Company and the Arper Transportation Company.

"The volume of business done by either one of these companies is far in excess of that done by the one company engaged two years ago at a time the capacity of all is fully taxed.

MORE BOATS.

"Two of the companies are now contemplating the construction of additional boats better fitted to handle the rapidly increasing business—a business that embraces such a variety of freight that the ordinary steam or gasoline propelled boat is not equipped to handle it expeditiously and in the same time and economy. Every factory that locates on this side of the bay increases the transbay traffic. This, combined with the rapidly increasing population, explain the wonderful development of this particular line of business.

RIVER TRAFFIC.

"In addition to the transbay service, the California Transportation Company is operating two large river steamers between Oakland, Stockton and Sacramento river points, bringing directly to this market the products of the rich bottom lands skirting the Sacramento river, affording an opportunity for the manufacturers and jobbers to land their goods in the interior at competitive water rates.

EXPANSION OF BUSINESS.

"The expansion of the commerce of Oakland is permanent and depends upon no outside influence for its continuance or greater development. She holds the key to the commerce of the entire bay, and it depends largely upon the public policy pursued which it shall be. "Business travels in the direction of least resistance, and should not be hampered or unnecessarily taxed. With a liberal policy welcoming traffic and commerce to our harbor the near future will show substantial gains over the excellent record of the past year."

NEW BUILDING OF Y. M. C. A.

Plans Finally Adopted for the Erection of a Model Structure
Unequaled in the Country.

W. A. Horn, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, reports that the officers of the organization and the architects of the new building to be erected by it on the northwest corner of Twenty-first street and Telegraph avenue, Howard & Galloway, have been working together for months on the production of plans of a building which will be ideal for the purposes of the association. Several alterations have been made to the original plan, and the various floors have been made and each one in turn is revised and altered in order to produce just what was wanted.

AN INTERIOR PROBLEM SOLVED.

The main problem the architects were required to solve was that of the basement floor so that the three departments devoted to dressing-rooms, shower baths and locker of the boys, business men and young men should be distinctly separated from one another and be equally accessible to the gymnasium on the one hand and to the swimming pool on the other, and keep the business men and young men from the locker and the locker from the gymnasium. The architects admitted that they were up against the most difficult problem they had ever encountered in their professional career. "We had been told," said Mr. Horn, "that such an arrangement could not be made. But in the plans which have been finally accepted, the problem has been solved to perfection and our building will be the first one in the country, we are proud to say, in which the problem has been satisfactorily solved."

SWIMMING POOL AND "GYM."

The swimming pool will occupy one end of the basement floor, 20x30. The gymnasium, 60x90, will occupy one-half of the other end and the rear of the building. The pool will be a separate set of dressing rooms, shower baths and lockers for the young men. Adjoining this will be a similar department for business men, and adjoining that there will be the department for the boys. Each of these departments will be distinctly separated from one another and each will have direct access to the locker and the locker to the pool, and on the other to the "gym." Under the gymnasium will be a sub-basement for bowling alleys—"the only part of the building," said Mr. Horn, "which will not be exposed to the direct sunlight. It has been our aim to get all the sunlight into the building that it is possible to obtain, as we recognize that sunlight is conducive to health, and one of the objects of the association, you know, is to promote physical perfection and good health."

FIRST FLOOR ARRANGEMENT.

On the first floor there will be a practically open area for billiard tables and social rooms, in which will be a large open fireplace. Adjoining this will be offices and board rooms, a barber shop, a men's club room, grill and lunch counter and the running track of the gymnasium. Then above will be a mezzanine floor containing the boys' department, social and class rooms, and upper part of the gymnasium and a rooftop gallery for the boys.

SECOND FLOOR.

The educational department, with its class and study rooms, library and recs., will occupy the front part of this floor. Adjoining this will be the state committee offices, camera clubrooms and a lecture hall seating about 250. And to the rear of the room of the gymnasium, the center of which will be occupied by two large skylights, and, at either end, will be a handball court, 24x30. These courts will be roofed and above the handball court will be a large open terrace, which will be open, but screened, however, to prevent the escape of the ball. This arrangement of the handball courts assures them an outdoor effect.

THE DORMITORIES.

The third and fourth floors will be given up to dormitories, with a section in the front of the upper floor which will answer the purpose of a roof garden and social room.

COST OF THE BUILDING.

The association is prepared to spend $250,000 on the building, and the architects are working on the detail plans to keep within this limit.

CHANGES TO THE EXTERIOR.

The adoption of the revised plans of the interior has necessitated material changes in the external arrangement of the building. The plan at present developing a new elevation and rushing forward the working ground plans in order that the excavation of the lot, which is 124 feet on Telegraph avenue and 160 feet on Twenty-first street, may be proceeded with. It is expected that the working foundation plans will be ready in a few days, and the building will begin, but it is not expected that the erection of the main part of the building, which will consist of five floors (as the so-called basement floor will be only about two feet below the ground level) and a mezzanine, earlier than the fall months.

The Young Men's Christian Association building will, however, be one of the handsomest and most substantial additions to Oakland's modern structures, which are rapidly multiplying.

ATTRACTIVE PLACES.

At the corner of San Antonio avenue and Park street, Mrs. Charles Shattuck has an attractive eight-room house into which she will move at the end of next week. The house cost $8000.

One of the most beautiful homes built in this city during the year is that of F. S. Loup, president of the City Council. The house has ten rooms and is located on Caroline street overlooking the bay. The porch is of either brick and the interior finished in handsome woods. The cost was about $12,000.

Another beautiful home is that of E. M. Wall of Chestnut street, which is now under construction at Central avenue and Beaton street. There will be ten rooms, all of them spacious. The windows will be of plate glass. The home will cost $18,000 and will be ready for occupancy some time next month.

HISTORIC HOMES.

Some Alameda homes with history are

VALUES ON LOWER FRANKLIN.

In the case of a protest against the assessment of a piece of Franklin street property for $20,000, for example, it was clearly shown by expert testimony that such property was worth anywhere from $25,000—the lowest expert appraisement—to $50,000—the highest—and that a corresponding lot nearer the water front could not be bought for $50,000, although the same changed ownership before the movement in values in the past fifteen months, for $9000. Property in that section is no longer based on its actual earning powers, but on its possible earning powers when suitable modern improvements are erected upon it. Land east of lower Broadway is all too valuable now for cheap and worn-out dwellings, and if such structures are allowed to remain upon it the owner is alone responsible for the fact that a larger revenue is not derived from it.

A WHOLESALE THOROUGHFARE.

Franklin street has been developing during the past year from Fourteenth to First street as a big hotel, wholesale and manufacturing thoroughfare, and an avenue of business has been developed on it which is steadily growing. It is true that heretofore an inferior class of buildings devoted to inferior purposes have occupied it, but an era of displacement has set in and new buildings of a permanent and substantial character are crowding out the old rookeries, indubitable evidence of increased property values. Satisfied property owners on this thoroughfare are awakening to the realization that their land has grown too valuable all of a sudden to remain as it has been, carrying a poor class of improvements, and that all that is necessary in order to produce revenues commensurate with the new values of these later days is to put up substantial buildings of durable materials suitable for business uses. Those property-owners who neglect to do this will simply be compelled to make way for new owners possessing a juster comprehension of new conditions and sufficiently enterprising to properly utilize them for their own profit.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skirm, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring, I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had very severe attack and took half a bottle of the twenty-five-cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man." TEN-STORY ON BROADWAY

A. M. Salinger Considering a
Skyscraper at Twelfth Street Intersection.

An up-to-date ten-story, class A building, 100x100 feet, may be constructed at the southwest corner of Twelfth street and Broadway.

A. M. Salinger, formerly member of the firm of Salinger Brothers, which sold out the stock, good will and lease at Tenth and Washington streets to Hain Brothers, and who has just returned from a year's absence in Europe, is considering such a project.

The matter was brought to his attention by Architect McDougall, who designed the St. Mark's Hotel.

In speaking of the matter to a representative of THE TRIBUNE, Mr. Salinger said: "Nothing is yet definitely known in this regard. The project has been brought to me by people who have been connected with the construction of the St. Mark's Hotel. It is not known yet how much it would cost to put up a structure of that kind. I must say that I am inclined to favor such a scheme on account of satisfactory showing as to cost and returns, but it is too early yet to give a decision. There is one thing at least in its favor. Only a few months ago, the site would be required to be given to the tenants before commencing work."

The site in question is now covered by a two-story structure, owned by the mother of Mrs. Salinger. If a new building should be decided upon, it would require the abandonment of their present quarters by J. P. Taylor, coal dealer; William Kent, saloon; B. Berceovich, cigars; Jacobs, tailor; W. N. Jenkins, jeweler; several tenants on the second story, and the Novelty Theater.

TO EXTEND FOOTHILL ROAD TO EASTERN LINE OF OAKLAND

The new foothill road is to be extended to Oakland on the eastern limits of the city.

This will have the effect of inspiring the municipality, in its new development, to designate some thoroughfare as a boulevard to connect with the great drive which the county will bring to the entrance of this city.

The foothill road, which is sometimes called the Oakland Scenic Boulevard, starts at High street and runs thence easterly, the objective point being Hayward.

It has now been completed to a point near San Leandro and is really one of the finest drives in the country.

On the one hand, there are the foothills of the Sierras in close proximity, the conformation of which are always pleasant to the eye, and, on the other, there is always within view the placid waters of the bays of San Leandro and San Francisco.

The roadway has a width of fifty feet. There is a walk on either side ten feet wide. The surface of the road is as smooth as a floor, and, as a consequence, it is a pleasure to ride over it, as many people do every day and especially on Sunday. The roadway has well constructed gutters and curbs on either side, and at intervals there are hydrants provided, by means of which water can be secured for the sprinkling of the surface so as to keep the thoroughfare in a perfect condition. It crosses the hills across crests of considerable size, but it is protected from erosion by means of massive and well-constructed bridges and culverts.

GRANT OF RIGHT OF WAY.

The land upon which the road is built was donated to the county by the grant being conditional that the boulevard should be forever closed to the operation of street cars.

OLD COUNTY ROAD.

It was regretted by many people that the boulevard was not begun at the eastern limits of the city and thence continued toward Hayward. At that time, however, Prescott street, or the old county road, which leads up to the starting point of the boulevard at High street, was a narrow driveway, which it would be ill-advised, because of its narrowness, to improve. Even if it had been leveled and macadamized it could never be an appropriately styled boulevard. It was for this reason that the new thoroughfare was begun at High street and on property grants which enabled the road to be built on liberal proportions.

OBSTACLE REMOVED.

The objection to using the old county road as the initial point of the boulevard, which existed originally, has now been removed, the property owners on the north side of the street having voluntarily granted to the county for road purposes ten feet of the land abutting on the thoroughfare.

This donation gives Prescott street a width of seventy feet instead of sixty feet as before and this will enable the boulevard to be continued to the city limits with a driveway of fifty feet and a walk of ten feet on either side. In another section of this department will be found a diagram showing the territory through which the boulevard, in its extension to Oakland, will pass.

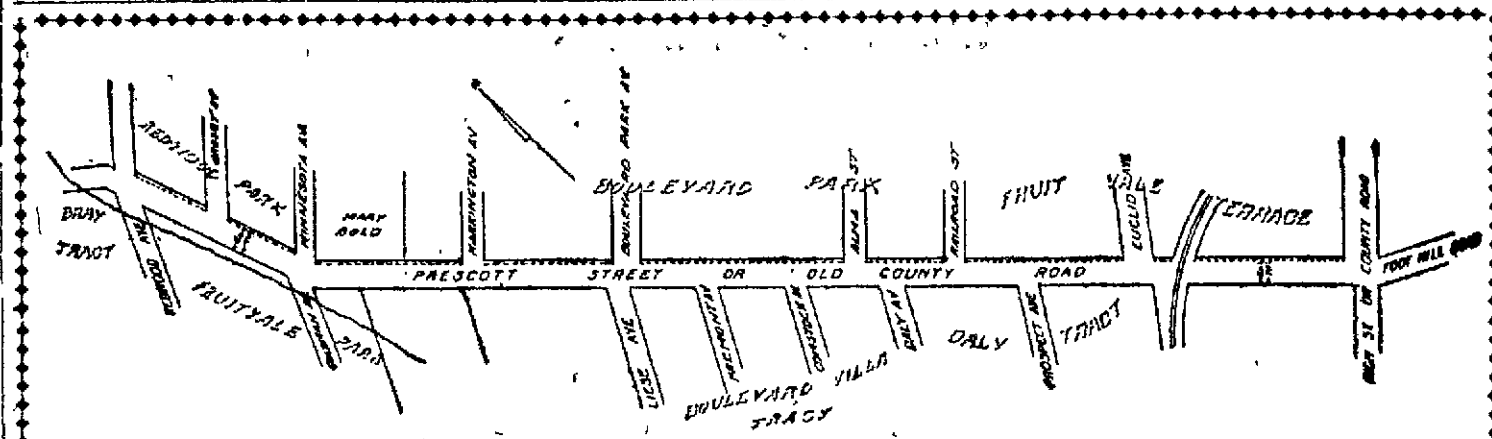

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model possesses these rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin, and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never as attractive, not even if she has Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. NEW PLANS FOR ARCADE HOTEL

Structure Will Now Consist of Five Instead of Four Stories.

New plans for the proposed Arcade hotel at the corner of Grove and Nineteenth streets, the construction of which has been delayed for several months, are now being prepared by Architect C. W. Dickey, of this city, and on these there will be quite a departure from the plans originally submitted by other architects and adopted.

The hotel will be a class C structure and will cost $130,000. It will consist of five instead of four stories, as were contemplated in the original design. The construction will be carried on by day's labor by the Arcade Realty company, composed to the make of members of the family of George W. McNear, the grade man.

The structure will contain 30 rooms, all of which will be well lighted and ventilated and supplied with modern conveniences, many of them having baths.

The sidewalk floor will be devoted to stores, one of the tenants being F. N. Harahan. The rest of that floor will, in all probability, be occupied by a department store, which will contain several small stores, which the management owns in this vicinity.

defeated the Oakland Commuters by a score of 2 to 1 in a game that was full of life and incident.

Reidy opposed Joy on the firing line, and while he was his safely twelve times in nine innings, he kept the hits so well scattered that they netted the Seals only two runs.

The Oakland twirler could not fool the San Francisco batsmen, but he managed to make their hits count for as little as possible.

Three of the Seals' hits were for doubles, and they clouted Reidy often enough to make six or eight runs, but Billy was there with the "nut works," and had the Commuters tied at all behind him, the Oakland team would likely have won the game.

Oakland tried hard to wrest the game from the Seals, but the latter were not in the "giving-up" mood and clung to the game with the tenacity of a bull terrier clinging to a tree root.

It must be said for Danny Long's men that they played bone-headed baseball. Had they at all shown any ability to think or run bases they would have won without all the trouble they experienced in capturing the game.

Reidy's men gave to him excellent support and this helped to hold down the runs. No man on either side made a fool.

Van Halgren at center field had a very busy day. In all, he took care of eight chances and did it in a manner to convince every one present that he is still a keen fielder. He also rapped out one of the Oakland team's five hits.

Hogan, who has been substituting for Egan at short, failed to get a hit yesterday for the first time in many days.

Oakland as usual came to the front first with a run. This happened in the second when Egan walked and came all the way around as Haley took a swing on a fast one, and away it went on a line to center. Spencer misjudged the sphere, so it continued on its career to the fence, going for three bags. A second later Haley was caught between third and home, the squeeze play going wrong.

Two innings after the Seals started, twin responses to center with a sacrifice. This effort was followed by a sacrifice from the bat of Williams and a single by Spencer.

Not till the eighth was any more damage done. Then the Seals proceeded to win the game. Wheeler led off with a double cushion shot to center, and Barney Joy had the Indian sign on everybody when his southern wing became warmed up to the work after the first couple of innings. During the final rounds he issued only one base on balls and fielded everything that rolled his way. The Oaks got but four men on the bases after the third span, but none of these was able to travel as far as the third cushion, so effective was the man from the land of pol.

All the time the Seals were sapping the offerings of Billy Reidy. It looked as though they would make a million runs. But it was the same old stunt over again—plenty of hits, but few runs. In addition to the twelve bingles, the Seals stole two bases and were further aided by three sacrifice hits upon explain why runs were so scarce. The score:

When Fitz was asked to fight Dempsey at New Orleans everyone looked for the Nonpareil to win over the frog and do it in short order. But Fitz won in thirteen rounds, and the fight went this far only because Fitzsimmons did not care to entirely shatter the great American idol of those days. Fitz was merciful and he did not hurt Dempsey unreasonably.

More than once he asked Jack to stop, but that heart of oak stood out until Fitzsimmons gave him the pea de grace. Fitzsimmons was probably the most remarkable fighter of this or any other century. He always gave away weight and fought all his opponents under a great handicap.

His greatest accomplishment was the defeat of Tom Sharkey and Gus Ruhlin within a week, and as the Horton law was to be revoked within another week he challenged Jeff. That foxy behemoth would have none of Fitz's game without careful training and the fight that promised the best house in ring history went by the birds because Jeff wouldn't take a chance. Later the men met, and the best ring authorities claim that if Fitz's hands had not gone back on him he would have won.

But now the end has come. The pitcher can never go to the wall again. Jack Johnson shattered the toughest piece of pugilistic crockery in the history of the ring.

MRS. ROBERT BURDETTE LOSES HOUSE BY FIRE

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—A building at 74 South Broadway, owned by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, was last night destroyed by fire that is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The place was rented by Hinz and Zelle, and was operated as a bowling alley, but has recently been vacant. The loss, $4000, was covered by insurance.

TO ERECT POWER HOUSE FOR ALL S. P. LOCAL LINES

Big Structure to Cover Block and Furnish Juice for Bay Cities Roads When Run by Electricity.

Interviewed yesterday on the subject of projected Southern Pacific Company improvements, Vice-President Julius Kruttschnitt, who is also director of maintenance and operation of the entire Harriman system, said:

"We are soon to build upon the estuary on a block of land we bought for the purpose of one of the finest, most modern and up-to-date electric power plants in the United States. It will occupy the whole block, which is about 400 feet square. It will be quite a showy building and high, because we shall have big coal bunkers there and mechanical stoking machinery for supplying the furnaces with fuel. The plans for this electric power house have been finished, and Electrical Engineer Babcock submit them to Mr. Harriman. They are the result of Mr. Babcock's study and adaptation of a number of notable plants in different parts of the country, and they embody all the latest ideas."

The site in question is near Fruitvale station and the power plant erected on it will serve the local lines in this city, Alameda, Fruitvale, Melrose and Berkeley, all of which are in turn to be electrified. "When the service will be established I cannot now state definitely," continued Kruttschnitt.

"Some other plans we have are three great tunnels, one for Portland, one for Tacoma and one near Seattle. I have only recently returned from there. At Portland it is proposed to drive a 5600-foot tunnel under the little town of St. John's and bring passenger and other trains in on a level grade and at some saving in distance. At Tacoma the difficulty is that the residence part of the city is up on bluffs from 200 to 250 feet above the water, while the business section is down on the level. Our plan is to run a 7500-foot tunnel into Tacoma to save grade and distance. Another tunnel is projected at Seattle, rather beyond Seattle. But we can get both freight and passenger trains into Seattle without any tunnel."

"TO TAP COAL MINES. "We have already begun construction of a six-mile branch road near Centralia, Wash., to some coal mines we have bought. Coal is getting to be scarce on the Pacific Coast. We use oil on our passenger locomotives. But oil prices keep going up, showing that the supply at present is not so great as the demand. "The Southern Pacific owns oil lands in the Kern fields, in the Coalinga fields, in the Sunset district and in the Mokititrik district. There will be enough oil for the railroad's needs if the wells last. From all we know our wells ought to last us for a very long time. Wells at Newhall and Saugus have been producing for fifteen and twenty years."

SEATTLE, Wash., July 27.—D. C. Shriver, a bookkeeper in the Puget Sound National Bank, was drowned in Lake Washington last night in an attempt to prevent the canoe in which he and a girl companion were boating from capsizing. The girl reached for a lantern behind her and tipped the boat, when Shriver, seeing the danger, plunged overboard to prevent its capsizing. His efforts were successful in saving the girl's life, but he himself was drowned.

NEW NATIONAL FORMED. CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—The Western Federation of Cloakmakers is the name of a new national union labor organization launched here yesterday following the successful termination of a local strike. The organization, it is asserted, starts off with a membership of 1500, including tailors and operators. It will be conducted independent of the American Federation of Labor or any other national organization.
